A RIDE BY THE SEA

Opening of the Coast Line to San Diego.

A DAY AT THE CORONADO HOTEL.

Hospitable Treatment of the Santa Fe's Guests—Observations En Route.

It was a merry party that assembled at the First Street depot on Saturday morning in response to General Manager Dan McCool's invitations to the representative interests of the city to participate in an excursion celebrating the opening of the surf line between Los Angeles and San Diego. In addition to three first class carriages and a baggage car, the train was composed of Mr. McCool's handsome private coach purchased by him during his recent visit to Oregon, and was drawn by one of the best locomotives on the road, which was polished as spick and span as a new shilling for the occasion. A few minutes after nine in response to a signal from Conductor Cornic, the engineer pulled back the lever, and with a snort and gasp the steam horse bounded forward and sped on its way into the fair country beyond. Ballona Junction was soon reached and then the train passed for the first time on to the new rails which could be seen stretching far ahead like two black lines drawn across Nature's panorama. The magnificent Laguna ranch, with its thousands of acres of fertile land stretching far back to the foothills, afforded the dreamer food for reflection in the idea of the multitude of families it could support on the socialistic idea of the equal division of property, and then the attention was drawn to the San Gabriel river, which, wearying of its old bed, had torn for itself another channel, down which during the rainy season its waters flow under the title of the New San Gabriel river. Sleek kine browsing lazily on the stubble fields which had produced the mighty hay-stacks to be seen in every direction, looked up in astonishment as the engine went puffing by, while the honest grangers halted their horses and waved their hats high in the air as they greeted their new friend, whose advent meant for the surrounding country another step forward in the march of prosperity. Fair Fullerton, with its thickly clustered ranchitos bearing evidence to its rich lands was scanned with interest and then the massive foliage and flourishing looking vineyards betokened that Anaheim, the dear old mother colony, was near at hand. A curious crowd of sightseers had assembled at the depot and as the train pulled up they gave it

A HEARTY WELCOME,

And answered with pride the many interrogations as to the value and productiveness of the land about. The air was laden with the perfume of flowers worthy of a place in the garden of the gods, and it was with a sigh of regret that the pleasure-makers responded to the stentorian summons of "all aboard" and were whirled away on their southern journey. Nothing richer could be conceived than the belt of country which was traversed for the next few miles. Orange groves in countless numbers dotted a scene of prolific vineyards and fruit orchards, while hedgerows of walnut trees contrasted now and then with the tall, slim eucalypti, which from their height of 100 feet, loftily contemplated the riches at their feet. Orange is aptly named, for the handsome depot on which busy workmen were putting their finishing touches, nestles amid a grove of eternal green, from which the rich perfume intoxicates the senses of the observer as he stands and contemplates the princely surroundings. The three miles to Santa Ana was soon covered and quite a halt was made at the metropolis of the valley so as to give all an opportunity to observe the fast crowding improvements of that bustling little burgh. Next came Tustin City, and then out on to the San Joaquin, the kingly domain which it is said changed hands on the result of a horse race. The train whizzed along at a lively rate and as there was nothing of particular interest to attract attention, all on board devoted themselves to discussions which ranged from politics to dog fights, and from the classics down to the last horse race. The party was well adapted to the occasion and a perusal of the names of Mr. McCool's guests as jotted down by a reporter during a stroll through the cars shows that if they had all elected to remain in San Diego the Angel City would be "poor indeed."

THOSE ON BOARD.

They were: Thomas E. Rowan, J. J. Mellus, J. G. Estudillo, E. L. Stern, Capt. A. W. Barrett, Walter Maxwell, J. Downey Harvey, S. W. King, H. Hiller, H. B. Hopkins, J. M. Moorehead, John A. Davis, I. A GOOD TIME.

"There's a lot of beer in the baggage car" said Mr. Dunn as he passed through the coaches and though anxious not to appear in a hurry nearly everyone present showed an immediate disposition to leave their seats and a procession was formed headed by ——, but no! it would not do "to give him away." A. C. Tremple who had discarded his coat and vest so as to give greater ease to the movements of his arms manipulated the corkscrew at the beer headquarters and in spite of the fact that he was beating the record he was unable to remove the impediments from the necks of the bottles fast enough to supply the thirsty throng by which he was surrounded. But at last all were served and then came another pleasant incident in the arrival of Secretary Carter with a box of fragrant weeds which he handed around "with Mr. McCool's compliments." In the meantime the train was whirling along as if shot from the mouth of the cannon by which Jules Verne's ideals hoped to reach the moon and those who had "dusted" across the plains in the old stage-coach days pointed out to interested auditors the haunts of the famous bandit Flores who made cold meat of a number of sheriffs who called on him to surrender at a place now known as Sheriff Springs and also the place where stands the old adobe where he was wont to lie in wait for his unsuspecting prey. It now bears the reputation of being haunted and the natives hold their breath and cross themselves if business leads their footsteps in that direction after the mantle of night has fallen. At Modjeska the train was boarded by Count Bozenta husband of the celebrated actress whose mountain home is situated amidst the bewitching scenery of the Trabuco. Some good non-prohibition spirit must have prompted Mr. Hellman to perform an act which was received with delight by all interested, for an invitation was sent round to a select few to join that gentleman in

A GLASS OF "FIZZ,"

Which was to be dispensed in the director's car. A newspaper man's thirst is proverbial, and while they were engaged in slaking it at the generous fountain to which they were summoned, they were joined by Mr. Herman Silver, who claiming acknowledgment as one of the craft on the grounds that he had had so much to do with them, made a boon companion by the recital of amusing anecdotes that had come under his observation. "San Juan Capistrano," somebody said as the train puffed along through the verdant foothills and a glance from the windows revealed the old mission and its historic surroundings. The church is but a relic of its former grandeur, though its massive walls stand as proudly now as they did in the days when the Indians flocked to them in response to the summoning bell of the missionary fathers. Don Marco Foster joined the party at this point and was greeted by his many friends as he entered the cars and exchanged compliments with his fellow-townsman, jovial Judge Egan. San-Juan-by-the-Sea was typical of its name, for here the first view was obtained of the mighty Pacific, as with ceaseless roar it lapped the sand-fringed coast with its expiring waters. The road then turned and followed the coast line as closely as possible, the run being the most enjoyable that can be imagined. To the East frowned the hills of the Santa Margarita, while in the opposite direction lay the broad bosom of the mighty ocean, bearing upon its placid waters white-winged craft dispatched hither and thither by the hand of man. The train halted at the Cañon Inferno, dubbed so by Mr. Dunn on account of its weird appearance. It is a cleft in the earth about 100 feet deep and 250 feet wide, and over this a superb trestle has been constructed, which, from the solidity of its appearance, quickly dispels all preimagined ideas of unsafety. On sped the train, frightening peaceful horses and cattle from its path, and at the hour of noon a thriving little city, the inhabitants of which had, for the most part, assembled at the depot, announced arrival at Oceanside. The Star of that place was handed round to all on board, and a few minutes afterwards bearers of the San Diego Union put in an appearance, both of these papers bearing on their editorial pages addresses of welcome to their visiting brethren. A box of sandwiches, contributed with considerable forethought by Mr. Grant, was handed in to the baggage car, and on being sampled, proved to be very good, as was evidenced by the rapid manner in which they disappeared. At Carlsbad opportunity was given to taste the mineral water of that place, but no particular anxiety was shown by anyone to get a second draught for, a'though probably very fine medicinally, it did not prove particularly palatable. As the train was passing Del Mar an invitation was sent round by Mr. Dan Freeman, who had been dubbed "Mayor of Carlsbad," to join him in cracking a bottle of wine, and the few, very few, temperance advocates present must have envied those who quaffed at the bowl the contented feeling which was visibly expressed upon their countenances. The houses grew thicker and thicker, and at last streets and terraces gave witness that San Diego, the ultima thule of the expedition was near at hand. The airbrakes hissed, the warning bell resounded from the engineer's cab, and at 2 o'clock, four and a half hours from the time when the train left the First street yards, the excursionists were stepping on to the platform of the D Street station, San Diego, and responding to the welcomes of a vast throng of citizens that had assembled to receive them.

AT SAN DIEGO.

A Warm Welcome by Enthusiastic Citizens.

A Reception Committee had been appointed by the Board of Trade to take care of the visitors, and these gentlemen, conspicuous by their badges, had a number of cars and carriages in waiting, into which the arrivals were handed. D street was thronged with people, who gazed curiously at the occupants of the vehicles as they passed by in procession, and at the Horton House, the objective point, there must have been 500 people assembled. A very toothsome lunch was next on the programme, and after this had been disposed of a move was made for the Chamber of Commerce, where a formal reception was to be held. The scene within beggars description, for every available foot of space was occupied by a surging throng, anxious to participate in the proceedings.

The exercises were opened by Colonel G. G. Bradt, President of the Chamber, who in an eloquent address welcomed the visitors and paid a high compliment to the railroad company for their enterprise in opening up a short line between the sister cities. He was followed by Mayor Hunsaker, who cordially greeted the city's guests in a few pleasant remarks, and then Mr. Eugene Germain, President of the Los Angeles Board of Trade, was introduced to the audience. Mr. Germain spoke of the event from a commercial point of view, pointing out in eloquent lanuguage the mutual advantages which the two cities would derive from their new belt of union.

Judge Brunson was the next orator, and amused his audience with a very humorous and, at the same time, sound logical address. He spoke of his first visit to San Diego and the incidents attending it, and then made some happy remarks about the San Pedro and San Diego harbors, leaving the friends of each equally well pleased.

Mr. M. A. Luce discoursed on Southern California and the great future ahead, giving interesting statistics, and concluding with a few words of earnest praise for the enterprise of the Santa Fe.

General Manager Dan McCool was greeted with ringing applause as he stepped to the front, and the remarks he make were both well-timed and sensible. He spoke of the benefits that San Diego and Los Angeles would derive from the new line, and said that as their interests were identical there was no reason why they should not pull together.

Ex-Mayor E. F. Spence then made one of his witty and able addresses, yielding the floor to Mr. J. F. Humphreys, whose remarks were well to the point.

Colonel Dickinson, of National City, was induced to make a speech, which he did very well, and then Mr. Herman Silver convulsed the audience by telling them that he had cut a speech out of a paper with the intention of delivering it on this occasion. "I showed it to Judge Brunson," said Mr. Silver, "and asked him what he thought of it. He said it would do, and judge my amazement when, on your calling on him, he delivered it a few minutes ago."

Mr. Lyons, of the Oakland Board of Trade, Colonel H. H. Markham, and Mr. G. W. Marston all made telling addresses, the speech-making being concluded by Mr. H. L. Story, who extended an invitation to all to proceed to the Hotel del Coronado. Colonel Bradt dismissed the assemblage, and on reaching the street the visitors found a number of vehicles in waiting to conduct them to the next place on the programme. The course taken was through the principal thoroughfares, and the points of interest and architectural beauties were pointed out as they were passed by. At the foot of Fifth street a special train was waiting, and on this the invited guests were taken and the trip around the bay commenced. It was a twenty-one mile ride full of interest, and National City presented a lively appearance as it was passed ere the undulating lands were reached. At 6 o'clock the traveling was over and through carefully laid out grounds the party filed and entered the magnificent

HOTEL DEL CORONADO.

The pen cannot convey an idea of the wonders of this huge building. Aladdin's palace and the homes of the Indian Maharajahs rolled into one could not give the creature comforts that are to be found therein, for everything that human mind can desire or art can produce is to be found. It is most imposing in appearance, covering with its 400 rooms an area of four and one-half acres, while its splendid grounds add sixteen acres more to the total. Everything is perfect from the machinery rooms, where 55,000 gallons of oil are burned monthly to produce the 2,000 electrical lights and serve the purposes of fuel, to the kitchen, where the chef with a salary of $5,000 a year directs the movements of his half hundred subordinates. The terraces and walks are superb, in fact, within and without, the building is a marvel and should be classed as one of the wonders of the world. Mr. E. S. Babcock, Jr., the manager, courteously received his unusual influx of visitors and in a short space of time they were all consigned to pleasant well-furnished rooms where they prepared for the dinner which was awaiting them, It proved to be a good one and while the choice dishes on the menu were being discussed, the soft strains of a string orchestra sounded pleasantly from a gallery above. The next hour or two were passed in inspecting the beauties of the place and then all congregated to the ballroom, where a grand dance was given in honor of the event. It was a most brilliant affair, the rich toilettes of the ladies being worthy of the masterhand of the famous Worth and contrasting strangely with the demure black which the fashions of the nineteenth century compel the sterner sex to don. By midnight the festivities were over and the participants betook themselves to their chambers to enjoy a night's well-earned rest. The view from the window to which the HERALD man was consigned was an impressive one. Reflecting back the soft rays of the silvery moon which peeped out from the star-bedecked heavens, the silver crested waves played a plaintiff lullaby as they ended their journey on the sandy shores. In the bay twinkled the lights of anchored craft brought there by the requirements of the town beyond, and far out at sea flashed the warning light of the Point Loma watch-house as it guided stalwart mariners in their journey to and from the harbor. All was quiet and at rest and even the soft breeze as it broke against the casement windows seemed to whisper a "Good night."

HOW SUNDAY WAS PASSED.

All were on hand betimes in the morning for pleasant arrangements had been made for the day. Breakfast was disposed of by 9 o'clock and then a start was made for the wharf where, straining at her moorings, lay the Manuel Dublan, a fine San Francisco steamer, which had been chartered to convey the visitors for a jaunt about the bay. It proved to be a splendid trip, for the weather was superb and the water calm enough for a child's toy boat to be launched with safety. Point Loma was rounded and then the boat was turned and headed for National City. During the journey a committee consisting of the following gentlemen was appointed by the visitors to draw up resolutions of thanks to the railroad people, the hotel proprietors and the citizens of San Diego for the unbounded hospitality they had shown: Messrs. H. H. Markham, E. F. Spence, I. W. Hellman, G. H. Bonebrake, J. F

MUSIC AND DRAMA.

The Lyceum Theater Company in "The Wife."

NOTES OF PLAYS AND ACTORS.

Scraps of Gossip About the Music World at Home and Across the Ocean.

Harry Edwards and wife are in London.

Henry Miller is negotiating with Mrs. Langtry.

Catherine Lingard will head the Little Tycoon company next season.

Mathias Sandorf will be the biggest thing ever done by the brothers Kiralfy.

Charles Coghlan and family have taken possession of Rose Coghlan's farm at Yonkers.

Mr. and Mrs. James Lewis will spend their three weeks' holiday at Lucerne, Switzerland.

Mr. Jacques Kruger will probably be seen with His Royal Highness Company next season.

Amy Ames is to burlesqee in The Kity, ballet dance in Nadjy. This will be a burlesque of a burlesque.

Bolossy Kiralfy has just purchased Antelope, a grand ballet by Jacobi, which is running with success at the Alhambra, London.

Arthur J. Hubbard, a Boston basso, has made a great hit in Melbourne, Australia, with the Amy Sherwin Opera Company.

Rachel Booth had an offer to accompany Mansfield to England and one for The Kitty, but she will rest during the coming season.

W. R. Guiberson, who has been with A Parlor Match for the past two seasons, has signed with the Jennie Kimball Opera Company.

Clara Ellisson, who was formerly a member of Mme. Modjeska's company, will shortly be married in London, and retire permanently from the stage.

The Lyceum Theater Co. arrived in the city yesterday morning. Miss Georgia Cayvan, of The Wife Co., was the original "Dolly Dalton" in Hazel Kirke.

Beatrice Moreland, who was with Minnie Maddern last season, has been engaged to play leading business in the No. 1 Held by the Enemy Company this season.

J. H. Hill has been unable to secure a leading man for Helen Barry. He offered C. R. Gardner $1,000 to release Frank Mordaunt, but the tender was not accepted.

According to a London paper little Josef Hofman will not be heard either in Europe or America for some years to come. It is doubtful if he will become the rage again.

Burt Shepard made his first appearance as a white-face comedian in Three Blind Mice, opening in Grand Rapids August 6th. The other members of the company are as follows: Billy Rice, Frank Howard, Richard Gorman, Myers, Hefferman and Sally Cohen.

John Allen, late of San Francisco, and one of the best known musicians in the country, will preside over the orchestra of the Brooklyn Theater. Allen entered the orchestra ot the Pavilion Theater, London in 1836, and has been fiddling ever since.

Mrs. O. S. Dimpfel, a recognized society queen of Baltimore, Washington and Philadelphia, is to make her professional stage debut in Duncan B. Harrison's melodrama, The Paymaster, at the Chesnut-street Theater, Philadelphia, on August 25th.

E. E. Rice has engaged Fay Templeton, who will appear as "Gabriel" in Evangeline, and as the bold, bad "Conrad" in The Corsair. The regular season will begin at the Grand Opera House, Chicago, September 15th.

Thrown Upon the World promises to be one of the interesting road attractions next season. Mr. Rufus Scott has had so many applications for dates from managers that he was compelled to open his season August 6, which is three weeks earlier than he at first intended.

The great, only and impressable Signor de Vivo has got the management of Signor Liberati, the cornetist, who has organized a military band of fifty musicians and soloists for the coming season. He will play two weeks at the Cincinnati Exposition, and then make an extended through the South and West.

The Dime Museum.

This popular place of amusement has secured another attraction in the shape of a Marionette Company in which there are over a hundred figures. These take part in very interesting pantomines, transformation scenes and ballets. The museum attractions are also most inviting.

A NUT FOR THE "TRIBUNE."

Colonel, Kindly Arise and Crack This Big One.

EDITORS HERALD—I have just read in this morning's Tribune a short editorial leaderette as follows:

"The home market, about which protectionist newspapers and orators are always talking is worth $8,000,000,000 a year. That market in all its richness is now enjoyed principally by the workingman of the United States. Shall he resign it to enrich the pauper labor of aristocracy cursed Europe? The Republican party say no!"

Now, if this be true I would like to ask the editor of the Tribune what has become of my share of this eight thousand million dollars it so glibly talks about?

The population of the United States in round numbers is sixty millions, composed of men, women and children; thus each individual's share is somewhat over one hundred and thirty dollars.

To my sorrow, I know that my income from that market in all its richness during the past year has been under five dollars. I, therefore, would feel exceedingly obliged to the editor of the Tribune if he would kindly inform me who has pocketed the balance. Are the sinners to be found in that host of Republican monopolists who fatten upon the toil of the workingman, and are attempting to gull the people by a sophistical cry of protection? Yours etc.,

WORKER.

Water Prospects.

Mr. G. J. Griffith is tunneling for water on the southwestern slope of the hills on the Los Feliz rancho, and the are such as to lead to the belief that a large stream will be met in the course of the next hundred feet. Every foot that the tunnel is extended increases the water stream, and it is expected that a sufficient supply will be obtained to furnish the valley with all the water needed.

Crystalized fruits, a splendid stock on hand, at Spence's, 46 South Spring street.

THE ODD FELLOWS.

Notes With Reference to the Coming Encampment.

Arrangements for the encampment of the Odd Fellows next month are progressing favorably. The committee has succeeded in obtaining the Pavilion as well as the Turnverein Hall, Odd Fellows hall and Armory hall, for the week commencing September 17th. The theatrical company which had engaged the Pavilion has consented to postpone its performances for a week. Letters from those expecting to come are arriving daily, and the committee on rooms has its hands full in providing accommodations for the visitors. The committee has been trying to effect an arrangement with the Southern Pacific whereby the rates of fare from the northern part of the State will be just one-half of what they are at present. It is expected that this arrangement will be effected, and if it is, it is thought that fully 5000 more people will come from that part of the State. The railroad companies state that their carrying capacities will be taxed to the utmost to bring everybody here that desire to come, and it is stated that arrangements have been made to land 8000 people here in one day. The programme for the excursions has as yet not been arranged, and there are several other matters which will not be announced until a later date, at present occupying the attention of the committee. The last meeting of the commmittee was not very largely attended owing to the absence of several members from the city.

DELINQUENT OFFICERS.

Colonels of the Third and Seventh Regiments Called to Account.

General orders No. 14, N. G. C., from the Adjutant-General's office at Sacramento, devote considerable space to the Third and Seventh Regiments. Speaking of the Third Regiment they say:

That regiment will be permitted to draw no more money from the State Treasury until missing papers are received at these headquarters. Colonel Tobin should have seen to it, that those papers were forwarded long ago, or, if he is too ill to attend to it, he should relinquish his command to the next in rank and take another sick leave. This office considers the prompt rendering of accounts and other official papers the most important as an officer's duties, and the State can dispense with the service of any officer or organization that cannot find time to render the few required in the State military service. The same remarks apply to the Seventh Infantry, commanded by Colonel Russell, which is delinquent for the following papers: Company "A," demands for quarterly and annual allowances, and account current; all the companies, except Company "B," for property return, headquarters for demand, account current and property return. This delinquency will cause a loss to the organization, for the money in the general fund is about exhausted, and when the accounts are audited they will have to take warrants, which will not be cashed before about next February.

Whittier's Oil Well.

Excellent reports are received daily from the oil well at Whittier and it is expected that at any moment the well may fill up and stop further operations. The engineer in charge is very sanguine over this well, and thinks that it will be the best ever bored in this part of the State.

Coal Wood, Charcoal and Coke.

Wellington coal $16 per ton; Coos Bay coal $11.50 per ton; Welsh steam coal $12.50 per ton; Screenings $7 per ton. Special rates for the above in ten ton lots. Charcoal from 60 cents to 75 cents per sack. Reduced prices for oak and mesquit wood for brickyards in carload lots. Walter S. Maxwell, office No. 8 Court street, telephone 33; yard Alameda and Jackson streets, telephone 317.

Lower Rates to the East.

Commencing August 1, 1888, the California Southern Railway (Santa Fe route) will sell round-trip tickets to most of the principal Eastern cities and return at greatly reduced rates: Kansas City and return, $80; St. Louis and return, $92: St. Paul and return, $95, etc. Tickets are first-class, good for six months, allowing stop-over at pleasure in both directions.

Circumstances may require us to give up many of the luxuries, and even the comforts, to which we have been accustomed; but there can be no excuse for not providing ourselves and those dependent on us with a remedy for those insidious attacks of disease to which all are liable. Frese's Hamburg Tea not only cures many diseases, but is excellent as a preventative in malarious and other derangements of the system.

An Absolute Cure.

The ORIGINAL ABIETINE OINTMENT is only put up in large two ounce tin boxes, and is an absolute cure for old sores, burns, wounds, chapped hands and all skin eruptions. Will positively cure all kinds of piles. Ask for the ORIGINAL ABIETINE OINTMENT. Sold by C. H. Hance, 77 and 79 Spring street, at 25 cts. per box—by mail 30 cts.

Dealers and Consumers of Beer

Will find it to their advantage to call on Philadelphia Brewery, Alliso street, for the best lager or steam-beer, good on draught for weeks at lowest prices. Bottled lager $1.20 per dosen, if bottles returned. Delivered to any part of the city. Telephone 91.

ICE DEPARTMENT.

C. E. TIBBETTS, Superintendent.

The quality of our ice is superior to natural ice in purity. The water of which it is made is taken from a deep driven well, is first boiled, then filtered, and thus is absolutely free from all impurities. It is frozen evenly and solid, and will last 25 per cent. longer than natural ice. Actual tests will always prove this, and scientific men have long ago demonstrated and now admit it.

We are now prepared to furnish residences, and on application by postal card or otherwise, our canvasser will visit and arrange for delivery. It should be generally taken, so we can have paying routes. By using refrigerators and taking 50 pounds at a time, much can be saved in price, and as it will keep better in large pieces, it is a saving in all ways.

A CALIFORNIA DISCOVERY.

The parasites, of which we give cut below, discovered by us, are the direct cause of Catarrh and Consumption, also many other diseases.,

Magnified 560 Times.

Imagine millions of these animalcule in the nose, throat and lungs, as well as the minute eustachian tubes leading from the back part of the throat to the middle ear, and you will imagine the misery they can produce. Thousands are swallowed when the patient is asleep, causing kidney and liver trouble, headache, blood poison, general debility, etc. We have a specific for destroying them and expelling the poison from the blood. Use the CALIFORNIA POSITIVE AND NEGATIVE ELECTRIC COUGH AND CONSUMPTION CURE to take and the CALIFORNIA POSITIVE AND NEGATIVE ELECTRIC LINIMENT to apply, and if the stomach is bad, use the CALIFORNIA POSITIVE AND NEGATIVE ELECTRIC SYSTEM BUILDER it builds up the system and purifies the poisoned blood. They are manufactured from roots, herbs and flowers that grow in California, and are safe for children. They never fail. The Cough Cure is excellent for Coughs Colds, Croup, &c., no child will ever die with croup when this is used. Our Liniment kills pain instantly. See our Trade Mark on every wrapper. Build Your Own Monument

By buying a lot and erecting a home on the Alexandre Weill Tract!

REMEMBER,

That in spite of the numerous and expensive improvements which have been inaugurated on the

Alexandre Weill TRACT,

Lots are still for sale

AT FIRST PRICES.

This favorable condition cannot last much longer, as the owners must soon perceive that selling lots at present prices is like

GIVING THEM AWAY!

Intending purchasers should bear this in mind, and following the old adage to

Make Hay While the Sun Shines,

Secure their lots before peremptory orders reach my office to

ADVANCE PRICES.

The Alexandre Weill Tract is situated on lovely CENTRAL AVENUE, between Eighth and Vejar streets, and but three blocks from the Grand Arcade Passenger Depot

OF THE S. P. R. R.

As soon as the grading of Central Avenue (the contract for which is already awarded) has been completed, all the approaches to our tract will be in splendid shape, and it will then be generally admitted to be the most accessible, as well as the most lovely spot in this beautiful city where to buy a home at a reasonable price.

The Alexandre Weill Tract is covered with grape vines and all varieties of fruit trees, and of the lucky man who builds his home there it will be rightly said:

"He feeds on fruits, which of their own accord
The willing grounds and laden trees afford."

Prices from $600 up. Terms Easy. Title Perfect. Interest 8 per cent.

SUNDAY IN JAIL.

Religious Services for Those Accused of Crimes.

The unfortunate victims of public oppression who live at Mr. Russell's free hotel on New High street are not allowed to overlook the Sabbath when it makes its appearance at the beginning of the week. Divine services are held at one o'clock every Sunday for the spiritual improvement of that portion of the people of Los Angeles who manage to get themselves into the County Jail. Different churches and societies alternate in the work it is to be hoped is not done in vain.

A reporter of the HERALD happened in the Jail yesterday noon when the services were in progress. There are at present about 160 occupants in this establishment. There is no arrangement by which they can conveniently be brought together, but those who live in each separate floor assemble in the corridor. This necessitates two sets of services at once. The exhorters, two or three in each group, stand at one end of the hall and the prisoners gather around them, some squatting on the floor and others leaning against the iron framework of the rooms. From the performance witnessed yesterday one would not gain the impression that many converts are likely to be made through the efforts of those who conduct the services. The prisoners may listen or not as they choose and on this occasion most of them did not choose. When the services began they strolled out of their cells and sized up the visitors. A few of them joined in the singing with great unction, but by the time the sermon was ready to commence there was scarcely any one left. Elton, the visitor from San Quentin, who came down to testify in the Caines and Lucas trials, hovered around and appeared to take considerable interest in the proceedings. Elton, according to his own story, was formerly an active agent in the Salvation Army. Anschlag, convicted of the murder of the Hitchcocks, did not attend church but put in the morning playing cards in his cell with Caines, Fray, Hill. Salt Lake Pete and the three Indians in his gang listened at some distance and took part in the singing by vociferous grunts. Hankins, who is charged with shooting George Everson, at Florence, a couple of months ago, paced up and down in front of his cell wrapped in meditation.

In the outer apartment among the officers of the jail and the trusties old man Perry, who has been described by some of the morning papers as a "famous desperado," walked slowly back and forth. He was disinclined to talk at first, but the reporter finally drew him into a conversation by asking about old times in Los Angeles. Perry is charged with having committed an assault with intent to murder on a neighbor, who was like himself a famous old character.

Some twenty years ago when the Sea's, father and son, were having things their own way in the country around where Downey now is, the elder one of the pair managed to run foul of old Perry. There was an understanding that whoever got the drop first was to shoot to kill and Perry was the lucky man—lucky according to the standards of the time. It was shortly after this that the younger See got into a quarrel with the Duncans, who kept a saloon at Gallatin, and shot one of them in the back.

"We searched for that feller high and low," said the old man, "but he had got out of the country. Now I understand they have got him up at Washington Territory and you bet there are witnesses enough left to hang him.

"Those were lively times here," continued Perry, "before and during the war. Every man's hand was on his hip-pocket. The town was about evenly divided between the Secesh and Unionists, and both sides meant business, I remember once when a fellow came along with a panorama of war pictures, and Bryan Phillips, a gambler that everybody knew, pointed to a Confederate soldier who was in the picture of Bull Run just shooting a Union officer. 'Bully for that fellow,' says he. In less than a minute you could have counted forty revolvers out in that crowd, and I thought the war had begun right here in Los Angeles in dead earnest. Things have changed here since the times when drunken men used to ride into the town and just about take possession of it. Why, I lose my way now in the very places where I used to coral my horses."

The old man is very far from being the desperado that he was pictured to be, but he is an entertaining talker, and can tell many good stories of old time incidents and character.

A SPARRING EXHIBITION.

Several Fairly Interesting Bouts With the Gloves.

The members of the Pastime Athletic Club of this city, tendered a benefit to George H. Bush, a heavy-weight of the John L. Sullivan Combination at the Olympic Hall, on First street, in the shape of a series of boxing exhibitions, which were witnessed by about 200 spectators. The sparring was conducted under the usual rules, in a twenty-foot ring, with six-ounce gloves. The first pair to perform were Jack Wright and Charley Wilson, two light-weights. They were evenly matched, and some good all-round work was indulged in during the second and third rounds. Wright was declared the winner, his opponent having twice committed fouls. Billy Smith and Jimmy Caldwell were the next to don the pillows, but the latter, who was very much lighter than his opponent, never had a show, and retired at the end of the second round.

The third event between Billy Grey and Harry Stanley was well contested throughout. Grey, who had slightly the advantage in weight, not being quite quick enough for Stanley, who got the award at the end of the third round.

After some little time, during which the spectators showed a good deal of impatience, two very amateur "bruisers" entered the ring, Andy Otea and Pat Williams, and their well meant and energetic performances received with enthusiasm, especially during the second round, which was a hot one. In the third and last round both men were much too tired from their former exertions to do much damage, and the bout was declared a draw.

The closing exhibition was the event of the evening, the beneficiary, Geo. H. Bush, being opposed by a burly negro named Harvey Wall. In the first round Bush, who evidently belittled his man, had none the best of his dusky opponent; but at the second brush he scored repeatedly, knocking his opponent against the ropes time after time. The third round was very one-sided, Wall going down four times in succession. Although another round was announced, Wall did not come up to the scratch, giving as an excuse that he was sick, and the spectators adjourned after giving enthusiastic cheers for Bush.

The Funereal Month of March.

An observant metropolitan barber says that he can tell one physical condition by the state of the hair!

The Bible tells us that with his hair gone Samson lost his strength. The Romans considered baldness a serious affliction and Julius Cæsar was never quite satisfied with himself because his poll was bare.

The face, however, is the open book and one can readily trace in its various expressions, lines, changes and complexion the state of the system.

The eye that is unusually bright and yet has a pallid brightness, the face upon whose cheek nature paints a rose of singular beauty and blush, more marked in contrast with the alabaster appearance of the forehead and nose and lower part of the face, is one of those whom the skilled physician will tell you will some day dread the funereal month of March, because it is then that consumption reaps its richest harvest. Consumption they tell us is caused by this, that and the other thing, by microbes in the air, by micro-organisms in the blood, by deficient nutrition, by a thousand and one things, but whatever the cause, decay begins with a cough and the remedy that will effectually stop the cause of that cough cures the disease of the lungs.

That is all there is of it.

The cough is an evidence of a wasting. To stop it effectually, a remedy must be used that will search out the cause, remove that and then heal the lung and do away with the cough. This is the power, special to itself, possessed alone by Warner's Log Cabin Cough and Consumption remedy. This is no new-fangled notion of narcotics and poisons, but an old-fashioned preparation of balsams, roots and herbs, such as was used by our ancestors many years ago, the formula of which has been secured exclusively by the present manufacturers at great trouble and expense. It is not a mere cold dryer. It is a system searcher and upbuilder and a consumption expellant. While others fail, it wins, because it gets at the constitutional cause and removes it from the system.

J. W. Hensaw, of Greensboro, Pa., on Jan. 15, 1888, reported that "he had derived more real benefit for the length of time, from Warner's Log Cabin Cough and Consumption remedy than he had for years from the best state physicians."

If you have a cough, night sweats, "positive in your own mind that you, oh—you, have no consumption," and yet lose flesh, appetite courage, as your lungs waste away, you may know that soon the funeral month of March will claim you, unless promptly and faithfully you use the article named. If other remedies have failed try this one thoroughly. If others are offered, insist the more on trying this unequaled preparation.

Some persons are prone to consumption and they should never allow the disease to become seated.

The Wicked Reporter's Reward: St. Peter—"You were a wicked reporter, I see, and only went to church when sent there to take sermons. How many sermons did you report?" Reporter—"One a week for twenty years: twenty times fifty-two is—twice nought's nought, twice two are four, twice five are ten—1040 sermons, sir." "Go over to that fleecy cloul and lie down and rest." "How long can I stay there?" "Forever."—[Omaha World.]

The current number has a vast amount of fresh statistical matter of great interest regarding this section. The ILLUSTRATED HERALD of 1888 is by all odds the best medium through which to make known to those at a distance all the varied attractions and industries of Los Angeles and of the semi-tropics generally. If you want to keep up the boom send a copy of this splendidly embellished publication to your friends in the East.

Unimpeachable Evidence of Dr. Evan's Wonderful Skill.

The following is but a specimen selected from the many marvelous cures affected by Dr. Evans, now stopping at the Hollenbeck Hotel. Dr. S. C. Segur, 115 Hope street, an eminent physician of this city, applied at Dr. Evans' one week ago, almost totally deaf. After two magnetic treatments by Dr. Evans his hearing was perfectly restored in the right ear and his hearing in the left ear is gradually returning. Mr. H. T. Whitney, residing in Santa Ana, a prominent business gentleman, was brought to Dr. Evans ten days ago, unable to walk without the aid of crutches from chronic rheumatism and sciatica, was entirely cured by one week's treatment by Dr. Evans and returned home a well man. Scores of similar cases can be referred to by calling at the doctor's parlors at Hollenbeck Hotel, or by attending his lectures and free treatments at Masonic Hall, 29½ South Spring street, to-morrow morning from 10 to 11 o'clock, where he will astonish the skeptical, amuse the mirthful and set the serious to thinking. Consultations at his hotel free. Admission to the Hall free. The lame walk! The blind see! The deaf hear!

The Cool Breeze.

Close the ledger, gentle Willie:
Johnny, lock the office door;
Go, you boys, and tackle baseball,
I'll away to hug the shore.
Hug the shore, and in this weather,
Would there were some maiden bland,
On the yellow sands to wander,
And be hugged by me off-hand.

* * * * * *

Ope the ledger, gentle Willie;
Johnny, sweep the office floor;
Come and tell me tales of baseball,
For my heart is sad and sore.
I have wandered by the seaside,
Hugged the shore and hugged the maid:
I have posed at tenis matches,
I have been a giddy blade.

Hand me yonder check-book, Willie,
And when there should ask for me
A lady, tall and blonde and stately,
With a manner frank and free,
Gently pass this cheek unto her,
Kindly, without sneer or frown,
Mention, just please as en passant,
That the boss is out of town.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Do You Dream?

Young Man! Are you suffering from any of the errors or indiscretions of youth, causing lame back, tired feeling about the legs, coated tongue, bad taste in the mouth, wind on the stomach, or sour stomach, amorous dreams, vertigo (dizziness), forgetfulness, loss of energy, and pain in the side? These are some of the numerous symptoms of Spermatorrhœa. Let not a sense of false modesty prevent you from seeking relief at once. This trouble will lead to Loss of Manhood, Insanity or Death. The undersigned has treated many hundred cases such as yours with never a failure.

Have you contracted any Private Disease which you do not wish your friends or family physician to suspect? If so, Dr. Blakeslee will treat you privately and successfully, and guarantee a cure in the shortest time possible. Many cases can be cured in twenty-four hours, if taken in time.

Syphilis (blood taint) whether of recent or long duration, can be entirely eradicated from the system by the use of my vegetable remedies, without mercury in any form. There is no necessity of going to the springs, when you can be cured as quickly and permanently at home.

Are you troubled with Stricture, or any other ailment peculiar to the male sex? If so, relief is at hand. The doctor by his studies and practise in this country and abroad has made himself familiar with all such cases.

The Question of Wages and High Protection.

A Republican editor or orator never becomes really eloquent until he gets upon the earnings of the wage-earner. Then all the fervor of his being exudes through his pen in poignant paragraphs. He disdains to confine himself to facts and his arguments have not the most oblique reference to the truth. He is never tired telling the workingman that if the duty on foreign rails is reduced from $17 to $10, and if a slight drop is made in the duties on glass, which now range from 68 to 108 per cent., the wage earner will have to work for wages insufficient to sustain life. He ignores the fact that in Pittsburgh, the center of the iron industry of the United States, many workingmen only receive ninety cents a day, while the wages of the glass-blower have been going down for years under an exorbitantly high protection. It is useless, also, to call his attention to the truth that under the moderate reduction made in the tariff by the Mills bill, manufactures will be invigorated, American skill and ingenuity will be enabled to compete with English and other European manufacturers in the markets of the whole world, that the workingman, as a result, will receive steady and remunerative employment and that universal prosperity would follow. No! He will not be consoled. His effusive sympathies will still go out to the oppressed wage-earner.

There are multiform statistics about the effects of a high tariff on the wages of employés, and they are all against the artificial theories of the Republican editors and orators aforesaid.

We will give a specimen brick:

The New York Press, Mr. Robert P. Porter's tariff newspaper, had an article in its issue of Sunday, July 15th, headed: "Poor Pay for Hard Work; Feather Workers' Long Hours and Difficult Labor. Crowded into ill-ventilated rooms, they are subjected to a discipline equalled only in slavery days; Children employed who should be at school." This promised well certainly. Slavery in New York had a startling sound. Upon reading this article it appeared that the wages paid were $7 a week; that the hours were from 8, or 8:30, to 5:30 and 6, with compulsory night work at home, for which sometimes there is a little extra pay; that the girls rarely have a holiday and that they never know until the morning of the day whether "Fourth of July, Thanksgiving Day or Decoration Day are to be granted them; that in the hottest weather the girls are not allowed to stop even to fan themselves for a moment; that the places where they work are always hot and often filthy, and that the tyranny of their superiors is cruel."

"Prices used to be better years ago, and even within my recollection," said a sober-faced young girl who sat busy at her work, although the hour was 9 o'clock in the evening, and the room was stifling with the accumulated heat of the day, and light of the gas-burner, which was just over the tired eyes of the worker's head. And then the worker goes on to tell about competition, scant wages, long hours, harsh treatment and hard life generally. Forewomen used to get $40, now they get $10 a week. The pay used to be ninety and then seventy-five cents a dozen for feathers the worker now gets thirty-five cents for. Finally, says the reporter, "As a rule, establishments for making fancy feathers are separate and apart from the ostrich feather factories, and the girls who do the work often earn but fifty or sixty cents a day. Formerly, in the better class of work, it was possible for a girl to earn $20 and sometimes $30 a week, while now the very best workers are only able to make $13 or $15, and as already stated, the wages are but $7 a week. This gradual decline in prices to factory girls is driving some of them to accept other means of livelihood, and it is something for their employers to answer for if their morals are corrupted for lack of proper payment for honest labor." An awful picture truly. And the press does well to call the attention of Christian people to this great evil.

In schedule N, of the Tariff Act of 1883, items 428 and 429 are the following: "Fans of all kinds, except common palm-leaf fans, of whatever material composed, 35 per cent. ad valorem.

"Feathers of all kinds, crude or not dressed, colored or manufactured, 25 per cent. ad valorem.

"When dressed, colored or manufactured, including dressed and finished birds for millinery ornaments, and artificial and ornamental feathers and flowers, or parts thereof, of whatever material composed, for millinery use, not specially enumerated or provided for in this act, 50 per cent. ad valorem.

That's all. Nothing need be added except to say that in an industry protected by a tariff of from 25 per cent. to 50 per cent. there is not "proper payment for honest labor;" that the employés "are obliged to submit to a kind of slavery;" and that the tortured and tempted girls are actually driven into prostitution. Yet protection makes high wages.

The Man Who Talks Too Much.

The Republican leaders are becoming quite restive at the garrulity of the head of their ticket, and they show signs of being very anxious to slow him down. Ever since his nomination Gen. Harrison has been pouring out a stream of smooth commonplaces to audiences that are represented by the glib correspondents who are stationed around him to be immense, but which are really very small bodies. He is not the first candidate who has talked himself into defeat and he will probably not be the last. A recent issue of the New York World has the following timely remarks upon this peculiarity of the General's:

General Harrison will not help himself in the estimation of intelligent voters by the puerilities to which he descends in most of his short speeches to delegations. Puerile indeed is his argument that because "American laborers are not seeking a better country than their own," while immigrants from other lands are flocking to our shores, therefore the war tariff is a blessing.

There is not a bright school boy in Indiana who does not know that emigration has turned to America for the past forty years because here there are freedom, cheap land, a great demand for labor and a chance to "get on in the world"—because as Chief-Justice Fuller eloquently summed it up, "The Republic is Opportunity."

The tariff has had about as much to do with immigration as stump speeches have to do with the changes of the moon.

In 1857, under a 20 per cent. tariff, and before any organized efforts were made to stimulate emigration, the number of immigrants arriving in the United States was 246,945. In 1877, under a 47 per cent. tariff, the number of immigrants was only 141,857. And from 1876 to 1880, under the same high tariff, the average was only 150,000 a year.

There are a good many citizens who would think it a sufficient reason for a reduction of duties if the high tariff is really responsible for the present excessive immigration. But the truth is, that as neither the Pilgrim Fathers nor the Cavaliers came to this country for the blessed privilege of being taxed to make other people prosperous, so the immigration has continued, and wages have always been higher here than in the overcrowded Old World, alike under high tariffs and low tariffs. And this would be case if there were no tariffs.

General Harrison ought to show more respect for the intelligence of the people whose votes he seeks.

THE coming election in California will be specially interesting on three grounds. In the first place it will ascertain the strength of the Prohibition party, which is this year making extraordinary efforts to show that it is the party of the future. This movement is especially active in such places as Pasadena, where the population has grown with great rapidity during the past two or three years. We have heard sanguine Prohibitionists claim that their vote in Pasadena this year will be as large as that of the Republican party. This may be an exaggerated claim, but the fact that it can be made even by a sanguine apostle of cold water shows that the movement has great strength there. In the second place the coming election will show precisely what effect the defection of almost the entire German vote will have upon the Republican organization. It is now settled beyond a doubt that this large and respectable element of the population of California has done with the Republicans for good and all. Once before in California the Germans voted with the Democrats almost en masse; and the result, largely due to their action, elected Stoneman Governor by the enormous majority of 22,000—the largest ever recorded in the history of the Commonwealth. The third question which will be determined will be as to whether the people of California can be bamboozled on the tariff question, and made to believe that a moderate and conservative reduction of the war tariff means free trade. The HERALD has an abiding confidence that all these questions will be determined in favor of the Democratic party.

FOR a great many years that there has been a sort of estrangement between Los Angeles and her charming neighbor on the South, and we are constrained to think that this has been entirely owing to a gross misapprehension of the feeling which exists in this city towards San Diego. If there has ever been anything but the kindliest sentiment here towards that city we have failed to discover any traces of it. The people of Los Angeles know that whatever tends to build up any portion of Southern California helps them. Appreciating this fact the HERALD not only sent one of its staff to participate in the formal inauguration of the railway which connects the two cities on the Coast but sent two, who will doubtless direct an observing eye upon the rich country which intervenes between the two cities. It is a region of great promise in both counties. The Southern portion of Los Angeles county is as yet in the very infancy of its development. South of Santa Ana towards San Juan Capistrano lie some of the richest lands on the Pacific Coast—lands which, within the next decade, will contain tens of thousands of people. The newly opened road also traverses quite a large and valuable territory in the northern portion of San Diego county, which has hitherto been precluded from rapid settlement by the lack of railway facilities. San Juan Capistrano itself lies very happily near the ocean, in a charming and productive valley, and from its location and other natural advantages it ought to become a large and prosperous town. Our correspondents will doubtless serve up many facts of interest concerning this interesting section.

ONLY a few days intervene between this writing and the Democratic primaries. We need a good ticket to win in Los Angeles county, and require all the good solid work that can be put in to rout the enemy. The Republicans, by nominating a confessedly weak ticket, have given us a splendid opportunity. Two things are required at this juncture. There should be decency and fair play at the primaries, and no man's personal ambition should be allowed to stand in the way of our success. The HERALD has great faith that the Convention will come up to the requirements of the hour. This journal has never presumed to dictate to Democrats what they should do, but it has the right to hope that a ticket which it is expected to support will be such as it can point to with confidence if we are victorious and with pride even should we be defeated.

THE races of last week were succeeded by an almost total hegira of the floating and pleasure loving portion of our population to the seaside. The trains which carried people down to Santa Monica, Long Beach, Redondo Beach, San Pedro and Santa Catalina Island were all crowded. The weather during the past month or so has been quite warm in the sun. It is very pleasant to know, however, that we have so many delightful resorts within three-quarters of an hour of the city. For a trifling sum the round trip, the finest surf bathing on the continent may be had, and at Santa Catalina the waters are as still and clear as in a mill pond. And then the mountains are right at hand with their cool and inviting cañons and splendid trout streams. Truly never were a people in better plight to stand of the rays of old Sol than our own!

OF COURSE there were bound to be a great many changes in the status of voters during a campaign of clear cut issues like the present, where entrenched abuses that have defied reformation for years are attacked. Thus we learn from St. Louis that the proprietors of the Chouteau Iron Works have joined the Republicans. We congratulate the party on such an accession. These are the gentlemen who have been paid during the past fifteen years by Pittsburg iron men the interest on their capital to keep their St. Louis iron works shut down, in order that the Pennsylvania iron barons might corner not only the market, but labor as well. We wish the g. o. p. joy of such additions to their thinned-out ranks, and would like to ask the workingman what he thinks of such a spectacle.

THE Express of Saturday made a sickly attempt to be sensational on the naturalization of voters, who, it assumes, will vote the Democratic ticket. This is the old, old story which has been raised against the Democracy ever since the days of old John Adams. Our esteemed contemporary has much to say about the ignorance of those who have been naturalized, and it arraigns one of the Judges for performing his duty. The so-called American party is not yet ruling the United States, and from present appearances it will be a long time before it does so. Meanwhile, the foreigner will be made a citizen as the law provides, even if he should commit the heinous crime of voting the Democratic ticket.

THE Democrats claim everything, as their custom is, with one conspicuous exception. They are not claiming Oregon to any great extent. Let us see; what was the number of pieces of paper, like prayer papers at a Chinese funeral, that lined the pathway to the grave of the corpse of the Oregon Democratic party? It was about 7400—wasn't it?—[Tribune].

Yes, and the fellow whom the Republicans elected District attorney of Mulnomah county broke the Congregational preacher's jaw for saying the election was carried by fraud.

The Courier-Journal brings us an article from the Macon, Ga., Telegraph which says that Judge Kelley cannot substantiate his charge that the framers of the Mills bill were dominated by a sectional spirit in arranging the schedule of duties. The Judge need not take the trouble of substantiating his charge.—[Tribune.

Of course not! Just tell a lie and stick to it! But will it? Well, hardly!

FRESNO was the victim of an incendiary fire last night, with fatal results accompanying the great loss of property. The desperate men who committed so terrible a deed appear to have had robbery in mind as their aim. Should miscreants of this sort be caught it ought to take but short time to mete out to them the punishment due their crime.

☞ THE ILLUSTRATED HERALD is now on hand at this office and for sale at the extremely low price of 15 cents each, or eight copies for $1. The current number has a vast amount of fresh statistical matter of great interest regarding this section. The ILLUSTRATED HERALD of 1888 is by all odds the best medium through which to make known to those at a distance all the varied attractions and industries of Los Angeles and of the semi-tropics generally. If you want to keep up the boom send a copy of this splendidly embellished publication to your friends in the East.

Father—"Well, Thomas, you have graduated from college and are now ready for your life work. What will be your field?" Son (thoughtfully)—"Well, to tell the truth, sir, it's a little hard to decide between left and center."

Firebugs Get in Their Work at Fresno.

A BATTLE WITH HORSE THIEVES.

Overland Train Derailed—Volcanic Eruptions in Japan—A Stubborn Fire.

[Associated Press Dispatches to the HERALD.]

FRESNO, August 12.—This morning at about 1 o'clock Chas. F. Riggs, manager of the Opera House, was returning home, and when he turned the corner of K and Mariposa streets he smelled something burning. He went to a small frame building on K street, thinking he saw a light there, and just as he reached the window flames burst from the floor as if oil had been poured over it and set afire. The burst of flame was almost like an explosion, and Riggs at the same instant saw two men fully dressed rush from the building. They uttered no cry of fire and were evidently responsible for the awful conflagration which followed.

Riggs ran to the corner of Mariposa street and cried fire. A man named Powell heard the alarm and crashed through the glass window of the second story of the burning building and fell into the flames. Riggs sprang into the burning room and picked the man up.

OIL COPIOUSLY USED.

The fire spread with incredible rapidity and in five minutes the whole of the block was a mass of seething flames. Oil was used everywhere in the rear of the block where fire could catch it. The fire department responded quickly but nothing could stay the flames. The men who went into the second story of the block were compelled to run.

A negro, named Fruitt, was badly burned internally. He inhaled flames while in Judge Dixon's law office trying to save private papers. He was not in the building five minutes, yet the flames caught him.

The fire soon crossed the street to the magnificent brick block on the south side of Mariposa and K streets, owned by Olcease & Garibaldi, of Merced, which was entirely destroyed. The loss to Fresno business men is a least $150,000.

THE WORK OF BURGLARS.

The fire was undoubtedly the work of a gang of men who have been burglarizing houses in this city. The citizens are thoroughly aroused. During the fire attempts were made to enter J. L. Bedford's residence, Mrs. H. Free's millinery store and Mr. Ewing's residence.

Steve Fruitt is badly burned about the face, chest, head and arms, besides having inhaled flames. In making his escape he jumped through a second story window and crushed the bones of his ankles so badly that, together with his other injuries, he cannot live.

George Powell was badly burned about the head, arms and upper part of the body. His face was badly cut where he crashed through the window in escaping. His nose was cut almost off just below the bridge. His injuries will probably prove fatal. It may be that one other man lost his life in the flames.

THE LOSSES IN DETAIL.

Later the losses and insurance have been summed up as follows: T. Riggs, groceries, loss $12,000, insurance $5000; George Bernhardt, saloon, $5000, insurance $2500; Houston Bros., barber shop, loss $500, no insurance; A. Tombs, general merchandise. loss $15,000, insurance $7000; Webster Bros., drug store, loss $12,000, insurance $5000; Subolich, fruits, loss $2500, insurance $1500; E. Kobloch, bakery, $3000, insurance $2000; D. S. Terry, law library, loss $15,000. no insurance; Hinds & Merriam, law library, loss $1000, insurance $250; Stewart & Daily, law library, loss $1000, insurance $300; E. D. Edwards, law library, loss $7500, insurance $3000; Bruce Cavitt, law library, loss $1000, insurance small; H. S. Dickson, law library, loss $10,000, insurance $4000; E. W. Risley, law library, loss $1200, insurance $500; S. Wright, law and abstract, loss $3500, insurance $1200; S. N. Griffith and R. B. Johnson, owners of the building, loss $40,000, insurance $18,500; Thos. Yost, jewelry and stationery, loss $20,000, insurance $10,000; E. Clark, groceries, loss $5000, insurance $1500; Justy, saloon, loss $5000, insurance $1500; K. F. Weaver, hardware, loss $8000, insurance $3000; F. A. Smith, drug store, loss $12,000, insurance $7000; A. F. Baker, general merchandise, loss $12,500, insurance $5000.

HORSE THIEVES CAPTURED.

The Ranchito Thieves Taken After a Desperate Struggle.

BAKERSFIELD, Cal., August 12.—Last Tuesday three horses were stolen from a Mexican named Berrito Daldoriado, from his place at Ranchito, Los Angeles county. The thieves started north with their plunder closely pursued by a son of Bonito and another Mexican. They overtook the thieves, one of whom was armed, at a point seven miles south of Bakersfield where they camped. The stolen animals had strayed during the night, hence the delay. Bonito's son came on to Bakersfield, arriving here this morning where he secured the services of Constable Tibbet and they immediately started for the place. They reached there about 11 o'clock, and spied the fugitives sitting under a tree. One of them sprang to his feet and commenced firing at Tibbet, at the same time retreating behind a tree. Tibbet quickly returned fire, hitting him in the wrist. Then began a fusilade. Tibbet on the open plain fired four shots, while the Mexican fired five from his refuge, but with no effect. Tibbet then fired a shot, hitting the Mexican and severely wounding him, after which the thieves surrendered and were taken to Bakersfield and lodged in jail.

Overland Derailed.

THE NEEDLES, August 12.—The eastbound overland passenger train ran off the track near Siberia station, about 100 miles west of here, to-day. The entire train was derailed, but nobody was injured excepting a few bruises and scratches to some of the passengers. The accident was caused by a broken truck on the baggage car. A transfer of passengers and baggage was made and the delay will not be serious.

Suicide at Riverside.

RIVERSIDE, August 12.—A young man named Jean Drake committed suicide this afternoon. He was lying on a lounge in his parents' house reading a newspaper. His father and mother went out of the room for a few moments and on returning found that he had shot himself through the head. He must have died instantly. No cause is assigned for the deed. He was heard to say last week that he would kill himself.

BANDAI-SAN.

Terrible Volcanic Eruptions in Japan.

SAN FRANCISCO, August 12.—The steamer City of Sydney, which arrived this evening from Hongkong and Yokohama, brings, through Japan journals, particulars of the volcanic eruption of Bandai-San on the 15th of July. The details of the catastrophe come in a somewhat disconnected form. The Choya Shimbun dispatched a special reporter to the scene. According to his account, the villages around Bandai-San heard strange rumbling sounds and felt shocks of earthquake on the 13th. These phenomena continued intermittently for two days and nights, but not being attended by any serious result no great disquietude was felt. On the morning of the 15th at about 8 o'clock the smaller Bandai-San trembled and roared as though a hundred thunder storms were combined. Almost immediately afterwards ashes began to fall; the sky suddenly grew dark and the rumbling sounds continued, accompanied by violent earthquakes and a flare of dazzling flame. The crest of the smaller Bandai-San appeared to be lifted bodily upwards and then to fall again with tremendous noise. The followed showers of red mud mingled with large stones, spreading havoc around. Such was the nature of nearly all the matter erupted—red mud without small stones, but accompanied occasionally by heavy rocks. Above the mud fell a few inches ashes. In five villages, Iwase, Yososean, Wakomiya, Misato and Hibara, the greater part of the houses were buried to a depth of from seven to twenty feet. The state of the bodies recovered is terrible. Some are literally cut to pieces; others are parboiled so that it is scarcely possible to distinguish between men and women. A few corpses were found suspended from branches of trees, which had caught them as they fell. Up to the seventeenth the number of bodies recovered was 476. It is believed sixty-one still lie entombed. The wounded number is forty-one. Eighty-seven houses were burned.

A telegram to the Home Department, dated July 25th, states the total number of population damaged by the late catastrophe, either directly or indirectly, is 2447, of whom 763 are direct sufferers, and over 1980 are indirectly injured and are unable to provide for themselves. Of the 760 direct sufferers twelve are now supported by the Kancho, and over 700 are soon to be provided for. The larger portion of the land damaged was in an uncultivated region.

A Stubborn Fire.

SAN FRANCISCO, August 12.—One of the most stubborn fires which the fire department has had to combat for some time, broke out this afternoon in a brick building at No. 116 and 118 California street. When the fire department arrived a dense volume of smoke burst through the roof and windows, and when the iron doors were battered in the smoke nearly suffocated the firemen and seriously impeded their progress. It was some time before they could ascertain the location of the fire, and then several streams of water were turned on the flames. It required an hour and a half of hard and steady work to subdue the fire. The loss amounted to $30,000. It is supposed the fire originated in the rear of the second story, occupied by David Ravekes, a dealer in paints, oils and glass. His stock was valued at about $10,000 and was insured for $5,000.

Beyond the Depth.

SAN FRANCISCO, August 12.—James Featherstone, a school boy fourteen years of age while bathing with a number of companions this afternoon, got beyond his depth and was drowned His body was fonnd by a boatman.

Political Points.

A tipsy canoe campaign, run on a free whisky platform, is in exact accord with the eternal fitness of things.—[St. Louis Republic, (Dem.)

Let the tariff be cut down a little, but just 5 per cent, and the benefits will be so great that the very men who have so long opposed it will stand in wonder that they did not begin the reform before.—[Chicago Herald, (Ind.)

The Republicans feel sure that Indiana will go for Harrison. The Democrats of Indianapolis, who ratified Cleveland last Saturday night also feel sure that Indiana will go for Harrison. They think she will "go for" him by about 10,000 majority. The verb "to go for" can be variously conjugated. — [Boston Globe, (Dem).

General Harrison is surely capable of something better than the platitudes and cast-iron phrases he gives his visitors in his speeches at Indianapolis. He seems to be lacking in topics that give thought free play. And yet there are questions upon which the people could be electrified.—[Cincinnati Enquirer, (Dem.)

The Republican papers generally predict that Mr. Blaine will go into the Harrison cabinet as Secretary of State. For the same reason that led him to write his letter of withdrawal—a reason not altogether unconnected, it is believed, with Mr. Cleveland's plurality — Mr. Blaine himself has no confidence in this prediction.—[Chicago Herald, (Ind.)

Speaking without any regard to the Presidential election, it may truthfully and disinterestedly said that the Democrats deserve the thanks of the people for doing all that the extent of their power permits to lift the burden of needless taxes and relieve our manufacturing industries of unjust discrimination.—[Providence Journal, (Ind. Rep).

And now the nephew of the martyred Lovejoy denounces the high-tax cheap-whisky Chicago platform and accepts a Democratic nomination for Congress, while a convention of independent negroes adopts a ringing tariff-reform platform and indorses Cleveland and Thurman. Somebody will ask before long what the Republican party ever did and what it is here for.—[St. Louis Post-Dispatch, (Dem.)

The Republican members of Congress has thus far done themselves no particular credit, and their party no particular good, by their tactics with regard to the one issue of the Presidential campaign. The time for them to better themselves and do their party good is short, but, short as it is, it is long enough either for them to conquer enlightened public opinion, or to make bad a good deal worse than it is now.—[Philadelphia Telegraph, (Ind. Rep).

"That is not the shout of men who are going to win," said Lochiel at Killicrankie, when he heard the wavering cheer of the opposing lines. The hesitation of the Republican Senate as to whether it will bring in a tariff bill or not is likely to give its party much encouragement. It is admitted that the tariff needs reforming, but it cannot be intelligently and honestly done on the lines of the Chicago platform, and the Senate can neither avoid nor settle the dilemma.—[Providence Journal, (Rep.)

Brown (proudly)—"There is some whisky, old man, that I have had in the house for fifteen years." Friend (tasting it)—"What's the matter, Brown, can't you give it away?"—[Epoch.

CONGRESS.

Outline of the Probable Work for the Week.

WASHINGTON, August 12.—The Fisheries treaty promises to absorb the attention of the Senate all of the present week. Should it be disposed of before the end of the week, the bill to admit Washington Territory will be brought up.

In the House several hours' debate is yet to be had upon the subject of the French spoilation claims before the General Deficiency appropriation bill can be passed. After this is disposed of the further action of the House will in a measure depend upon the Committee on Foreign Affairs. If that Committee can be gotten together early in the week it will doubtless request the House to enter immediately upon consideration of the Senate bill to give effect to the Chinese treaty.

SUNDAY BALL-PLAYERS.

The Haight Street Game Winds Up in a Row.

SAN FRANCISCO, August 12.—About 10,000 people attended the Haight street grounds this afternoon and witnessed a careless game between the Pioneers and Haverlys. The players in both clubs did miserable work, the Pioneers doing by far the worst. It was a game full of muffs, fumbles, and stupid plays. The Haverlys, while their playing was not as bad as the Pioneers, played badly enough. During the game Umpire Vancourt was accused of favoring the Haverlys in his decisions. Immediately after the game ended Umpire Van Court was surrounded by an infuriated crowd, many of whom had lost a few dollars on the game through his alleged unfair rulings. At the end of the ninth inning he walked up to the press stand to inform the scorer of a five-dollar fine which he had imposed on Lawton for a display of temper during the game, as he walked away an excited individual and called him a vile name, when Van Court struck him a stinging blow on the throat. Van Court then proceeded a few feet when another man cursed him in the vilest kind of language. Van Court struck his second traducer full in the face. They then clinched, but police officers rushed in and separated them. The officers had to draw their clubs and threaten the crowd before they could make any headway in their efforts to convey Van Court to the club house. His assailant was placed under arrest, but at the solicitation of Manager Harris he was released. Score: Haverlys 6, Pioneers 5.

THE GAME AT STOCKTON.

STOCKTON, August 11.—Owing to the illness of Lorrigan, the Stocktons to-day put Charles Chase, an amateur, in the box in the game with the Greenhood & Morans. The young man pitched remarkable well, and while the score was 7 to 6 in favor of the home team, the visitors should have been shut out. Not until the sixth inning was he found for a hit. The playing was very spirited and sharp, not an error being made on either side for six innings. Whiteheads hitting and Long and Selna's fielding, with the twirling of Chase, were the features of the game. Score: Stockton's 7, Greenwood & Moran's 6.

ASSOCIATED GAMES.

CINCINNATI, August 12.—Cincinnati 6, Brooklyn 1.

LOUISVILLE, August 12.—Louisville 5, Baltimore 6.

KANSAS CITY, August 12.—Kansas City 5, Cleveland 6.

ST. LOUIS, August 12.—St. Louis 2, Athletics 0.

Weather Crop Bulletin.

WASHINGTON, August 12.—The weather crop bulletin for the week ending August 11th says: Excessive rain has fallen and cool weather in Minnesota and Northern Nebraska is retarding the growth of crops, and delaying the harvest. Light frost occurred in Northwestern Minnesota and Michigan, on Friday, but no damage is reported. From Kansas, Missouri and Southern Nebraska reports indicate that favorable weather during the past week has generally improved the condition of crops.

Jumped the Track.

CORNING, N. Y., August 12.—A locomotive of the westbound Chicago express on the Erie road, jumped the track near here at 2 o'clock this morning and dashed into a Lehigh Valley locomotive standing still. The passenger locomotive overturned and crushed to death John Mercereau, of Hornellsville, the engineer. The fireman escaped. Henry Fisher, the Lehigh engineer, was hurt about the head. Two baggage cars and a smoker were wrecked. Several passengers were badly shaken up.

Marine Intelligence.

NEW YORK, August 12.—The Cunard steamer Umbria arrived this morning. The accident to her machinery was merely the displacing of a pin, which caused a trifling delay. Among the other arrivals were the Arizona, Egypt and Stronans from Liverpool, the Anchoria from Glasgow, and the Elysia from Italy.

LONDON, August 12.—The captain of the yacht Stranger, which has arrived at Queenstown from Boston, says he did not see the dory, Dark Secret.

HAVRE, August 12.—The La Gascoigne has arrived from New York.

Laurence Jerome Dead.

SHARON, Conn., August 12.—Laurence B. Jerome passed peacefully away about noon to-day. He had not been conscious since Friday night and had suffered no pain. His wife and son, Travers Jerome, besides other members of the family, were at his bedside. The funeral will take place in New York on Tuesday or Wednesday. Jerome was in his 69th year.

The Week's Clearances.

BOSTON, August 12.—Special dispatches to the Post from the manages of the clearing houses of the United States, show that the gross exchanges for the week ending August 11, 1888, were $862,836,314, an increase of 6.6 per cent. as compared with the corresponding week of last year.

Boat Upset.

NEW YORK, August 12.—Three young men, Solomon Reid, 16 years; William Lawrence, 18, and the third, name unknown, were drowned to-night in East River, opposite Sixth street, from a boat which was upset by the wash from a ferry boat. They tried to swim ashore in a strong tide. Their five companions were rescued after clinging to the boat's keel for half an hour.

Sampling Works Burned.

SALT LAKE, Utah, August 12.—The Mackintosh Sampling Works, at Sandy, fourteen miles south of here, burned at early hour this morning. Loss about $25,000; insured for $10,000; cause of fire unknown.

SOCIETY PEOPLE DROWNED.

Foreign Flashes—General Boulanger Taken for a Target—Eastern Echoes.

[Associated Press Dispatches to the HERALD.]

CHICAGO, August 12.—A Times special from Omaha tells of a sanguinary conflict late last night at Shenandoah, Iowa, in which three men were killed outright and several wounded, one of whom will die. The report says: Frank Gallup, the member of rather a tough family, began beating his aged father. A number of citizens interfered, when young Gallup fired into the crowd, killing F. K. Pine. The unexpected shot and dire consequences following it threw the citizens into confusion, but they soon rallied and made an advance to the house into which young Gallup had retreated. The young desperado soon appeared with two revolvers and opened a fusilade with deadly effect. The first man to fall was David Campbell, who was shot through the neck and fatally wounded; the next victim was Bird O. Rice, shot through the ears, and killed instantly. T. H. Winfrey was the last man to drop, with a bullet through his leg. In the meantime old man Gallup was shot through the shoulder, but it is not known by whom. Young Gallup returned to the house and began making preparations for escape, when Morney Fletcher fired a shot from a rifle, which it was subsequently ascertained went through the desperado's two arms and body, killing him instantly. This latter fact was not known to the crowd until Gallup's wife cried out to the crowd to stop firing, that her husband was dead. The citizens, fearing treachery, called her out and gave her a rope and told her to fasten it about her husband's neck. This she did, and the wholesale murderer's naked body was dragged through the streets until it was fearfully mutilated. It was finally deposited on the floor of the city hall where it was viewed by hundreds of citizens during the day. Old man Gallup and his wife were arrested and lodged in jail. The two men, Pine and Rice, as well as the wounded, were prominent citizens. There is no chance for Campbell's recovery and his death is expected momentarily. Pine's body has been taken to Galesburg, Illinois, for interment.

Shenandoah is the town in which, night befor least, Fred Phillips outraged the little six-year-old daughter of Pine, the man who lost his life, for which he was treated to a coat of tar and feathers by an angry populace and finally strung up to a telegraph pole until he confessed his crime. He was then ordered to leave the country.

THEIR LAST CRUISE.

Supposed Drowning of Two Young Society People.

BAR HARBOR, Me., August 12.—There is great excitement here over the supposed drowning of two young society people, and the water in the vicinity is covered with crafts of various kinds engaged in searching for some trace of the missing ones. At 9 o'clock last night J. Harmon Rodge and Miss Milliken took a cruise out and around Bar Harbor. The night was intensely dark, and becoming alarmed at their absence searchers went out at 11 P. M. At an early hour this morning the wharves in the vicinity were crowded with anxious friends, who hoped and waited until noon, when a gun from the steamship Nosya, belonging to Montgomery Sears, announced that she bore tidings. She had picked up the boat, bottom up, off Egg Rock, a distance of three miles from here. Miss Milliken was a guest at St. Sauveur, and was chaperoned by Mrs. Van Voorhees. Her parents are residents of New Orleans. Mr. Rodge is a son of Joel Harmon Rodge, one of the wealthy iron foundrymen of Albany, N. Y. The ages of each of the supposed victims was about 25 years.

FRENCH POLITICS.

General Boulanger Shot at and Cain Raised Generally.

PARIS, August 12.—While General Boulanger was driving in an open carriage at Saint Jean d'Argely to-day, Prof. Perrin, of the Lycee, fired five shots at him from a revolver. M. Ratapan, a friend of the General, rushed forward and managed to turn the weapon aside. The result was that Ratapan himself received a bullet in the back of the head, but the wound is not serious. Two peasants were also wounded. Prof. Perrin is a friend of Mayor Lair, the candididate nominated by the Opportunists in opposition to Boulanger. The affair occurred at the height of a pitched battle between the rival political parties. When the gen-darmes charged Count Dillon received a blow on the head from a stick, and other Boulangerists were roughly handled. It is not certain that Perrin intended to aim at Boulanger.

General Boulanger has issued a manifesto to the electors of Nord and Charente Inferieur Departments.

THE NEW CHARTER.

The Instrument as it will be Put Before the People.

The Board of Freeholders has made the new charter and it will come up to-day for final revision and be put in shape to be laid before the people. It is a great improvement on the one submitted a few months ago. Before the Board came to sign it, the members might look carefully into these points:

Is it well to give the city government such wide powers in dealing with "nuisances" as contemplated in article 1, section 2, (13)? For example is it well to empower any body to "suppress or prohibit any or all billiard tables?"

Will the division of the city into wards as defined by the charter be likely to jeopardize the passage of the instrument at the polls? If, as some think, there is danger of this then would it not be better to leave that to the Council? Some think there is a political unfairness in the present division. Is there?

Should not the Chief of Police and the Health Officer be appointed by the Boards and the nconfirmed by the Council?

Does the charter empower the Council to change the number of wards? If so is the clause giving this power explicit enough? And if that, too, be so then when there are more members, how many shall form a quorum in the Council and how shall that be changed?

The bond of the city Treasurer is too small. He should give a bond for more than the moneys in his hand at any one time. This is the weakest point in the new charter. Outside these points the charter seems to be a well considered instrument, and worthy of being passed.

By the way the building superintendent should be required to keep a list of permits for all buildings.

A Sad Bereavement.

Los Angeles citizens learn with much regret of the sudden death of the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Brodrick. He was a very bright and promising child. His death was very sudden, being caused by that fell disease so fatal to children, diphtheria. The funeral takes place from the family residence on San Pedro street to-day at 3:30 P. M., thence to the Cathedral, where services will be held at 4 o'clock.

The City.

They do neither plight nor wed
In the City of the Dead,
In the city where they sleep away the hours;
But they lie, while o'er them range
Winter blight and summer change,
And a hundred happy whisperings of flowers.
No, they neither wed nor plight,
And the day is like the night,
For their vision is of other kind than ours.

They do neither sing nor sigh,
In that Burgh of By and By,
Where the streets have grasses growing cool and long;
But they rest within their bed,
Leaving all their thoughts unsaid,
Deeming silence better far than sob or song.
No, they neither sigh nor sing,
Though the robin be a-wing,
Though the leaves of autumn march a million strong.

There is only rest and peace
In the City of Surcease
From the failings and the wailings 'neath the sun,
And the wings of the swift years
Beat but gently o'er the biers,
Making music to the sleepers every one.
There is only peace and rest;
But to them it seemeth best,
For they lie at ease and know that life is done.

"Look here, Maria," shouted Mr. Breadwinner, in great wrath, "there isn't a button on one of my shirts." "No?" said Mrs. Breadwinner, with a show of genuine interest, "and the kitchen roof leaks worse than ever, the back of the stove has been burned out for three weeks, the front door won't shut, and if I knew how to weld a cast-iron hinge, I'd fix that front gate myself before another day went by. Why don't you wear the other shirt?" And Mr. B. kept so quiet he could hear himself breathe hard.—[Boston Globe.

A RIDE BY THE SEA.

[CONCLUDED FROM FIRST PAGE.]

Humphreys, W. Spurgeon, J. Baruch, T. E. Rowan, H. Newmark, R. Egan, E. L. Stern and T. H. Ward.

At National City the cars of the Otay Railroad were taken and all proceeded to Sweetwater dam and inspected that splendid piece of work. It extends from mountain to mountain and embraces 640 acres of land with a depth at some points of fifty feet. Back to San Diego was the next order of things and the St. James Hotel was headed for, where a well catered lunch was served. At its conclusion the party proceeded to the parlors where the resolutions drawn up by the committee on the steamboat were read and unanimously adopted. It being near 4 o'clock, the hour fixed for the return of the excursion, there was no time to be wasted, so the tourists proceeded to the D Street depot where the train was waiting. Those who remained at the Coronado Hotel during the day in preference to going about the country had an equally enjoyable time as the sightseers. The management did everything to make them comfortable, and it was with infinite regrets that they left the imposing caravansary just as its guests were beginning to assemble in the spacious ball-room for the customary Sunday afternoon sacred concert.

HOMEWARD BOUND.

The return journey was made without any especial incident, and at 9 P. M. the cars pulled up at the First Street depot and the two days outing were over. From first to last it was a most enjoyable affair. The officials of the road were courteous and hospitable to the extreme, and the residents en route, the proprietors of the Horton House, St. James Hotel and the Coronado did all in their power to make the excursion an enjoyable one, and how well they succeeded was proved by the heartfelt thanks of all who participated. The new road is a good one both for the purposes of travel and for scenic beauty, and is a boon to the commercial and social interests of Los Angeles and San Diego that cannot at present be fully realized.

AMUSEMENTS.

The Lyceum Company in "The Wife" To-night.

At the Grand Opera House, this evening, the Daniel Frohman's Lyceum Theater Company, of New York city, will begin an engagement of six nights and Saturday matinee, presenting their success The Wife, by A. Belasco and A. C. DeMille, with the same remarkable cast which presented the play for 250 nights at the Lyceum Theater, New York, and during the engagement of four weeks at the Baldwin Theater, San Francisco. The following is the remark-cast:

John Rutherford, of the United States Senate....Herbert Kelcey
Matthew Culver—in Politics....Nelson Wheatcroft
Robert Grey, Attorney-at-Law....Henry Miller
Silas Truman, of the Produce Exchange....Charles Walcot
Maj. Homer Q. Putnam, G. A. R., whose faint heart ne'er won fair lady....W. J. LeMoyne
Jack Dexter—Columbia, '88....Charles S. Dickson
Mr. Randolph, Rutherford's Private Secretary....Walter Bellows
Helen Truman, an only daughter....Georgia Cayvan
Lucile Ferrant, from New Orleans....Grace Henderson
Mrs. S. Bellamy Ives—in Charities....Mrs. Charles Walcot
Kitty Ives—coming out....Louise Dillon
Mrs. Amory, Junior Member of Truman & Co....Mrs. Thomas Whiffen
Agnes, Helen's Maid....Meda Brown

Miss Georgie Cayvan plays the heroine "Helen Truman," a young wife, about whom the complications of a love story revolves. She is a type of the modern society woman who is chiefly interested in social gayeties, and most particulary in amateur theatricals. The role of "Mrs. S. B. Ives," shows a widow who is largely devoted to amateur theatricals for charitable purposes. Her greatest aim is to have the receipts of her entertainment exceed those of her rivals. "Kitty Ives," her daughter, is just "coming out," and is trying to adopt herself to the novelty of her social surroundings and the attentions of her first admirer. "Lucille Ferrant," an impulsive young lady from New Orleans, is introduced for the first time to the gayeties of Northern life. In following them assiduously she finds the truth of the old proverb, "The course of true love never does run smooth." Mrs. Amory, Helen's aunt, is the junior member of the firm of Truman & Co. She is sweet, motherly, and intensely sympathetic. Mr. Kelcey is the hero, "John Rutherford," who is a United States Senator. His plans for the advancement of his young friend, "Robert Grey," into direct antagonism with "Matthew Culver," a politician. "Silas Truman," of the Produce Exchange, is Helen's father. Mr. LeMoyne has, as "Major Putman," the amusing part of an amateur actor. "Jack Dexter," a Columbia College boy, the sweetheart of Kitty, is another comedy part.

THE CHURCHES.

Notes in Relation to Religious Topics.

The services at the various churches in the city were well attended yesterday. Quite a number of the pastors are out of the city on their summer vacations, but their places were acceptably filled by visiting clergymen. Some of the churches have given up their evening services during the summer months, but morning services are largely attended despite the fact that so many people are out of the city.

Presiding Elder Rev. J. W. Van Cleve conducted the services at the Main Street M. E. Church yesterday, in place of the pastor, Rev. I. L. Spencer.

Rev. F. D. Seward occupied Rev. W. C. Steven's place at the Third Presbyterian Church yesterday morning.

Rev. Mr. Van Osdel, of Ottawa, conducted the services at the First Baptist Church both morning and evening yesterday.

At the Simpson M. E. Church Rev. F. A. Archibald preached at the morning services and Rev. G. S. Watson at the evening services.

Rev. R. Lokan, of Santa Monica, relieved Rev. Joel S. Gilfillan at the Bethany Presbyterian Church yesterday morning.

Rev. Dr. E. Thompson, of this city, delivered the dedicatory sermon at the Burbank M. E. Church yesterday morning at 11 o'clock.

Rev. W. A. Knighten chose for his texts yesterday "Soul Desire" and "Lost Love."

Rev. Milton F. Duncan, late of Baltimore, preached at New Church yesterday morning.

Prof. G. W. James delivered a lecture to young men yesterday afternoon at Opera House Hall on "Social Purity."

Rev. Henry Scott Jefferys chose for his subjects of discourse yesterday, "Conversion" and "The Tongue."

Work has been renewed on Plymouth Church on York street, and it is expected to be completed by October 1st.

The A. M. E. Church will shortly occupy new quarters on Second street.

Yesterday Mrs. S. J. Churchill, President of the Northern California W. C. T. U., and Miss S. C. Burnett, of Salt Lake City, addressed a large congregation at the Fort Street M. E. Church.

MEDICAL.

Dr. Liebig & Co.

The European Medical Staff and Special Surgeons and Physicians of the Liebig World Dispensary and International Surgical Institute, 400 Geary street, San Francisco, will open offices again in Los Angeles December 1, 1888, for two weeks.

The surgical branch gives special attention to deformities of every kind, and all displacements requiring appliances for Curvature of the Spine, Hip Joint, Distorted Limbs or Arms successfully treated by our new Voltaic and Magnetic appliances.

The medical branch devotes special attention to all Chronic, Complicated, Private and Westing diseases, resulting from badly treated cases of an acute or special nature, or from indiscretions of youth, bringing on Spermatorrhœa, Seminal Weakness, and an unnatural drain from the body which undermines the constitution; also Debility, Decay, Loss of Vitality or Manhood, which results from an excess of maturity.

The reason so many are not cured of the above complaints is owing to a complication called Prostatorrhœa, which our treatment alone can cure.

Variocoele, wormy veins in Scrotum, Stricture, blood and skin impurities speedily cured; acute private troubles safely, confidentially and quickly cured. Catarrh of the mucous membrane of the head or bladder successfully treated; also throat and lung diseases. Female complaints and all complicated, delicate diseases of women carefully treated by our new method, whereby none of the usual physical examinations are required. Displacements of the Uterus and all special complaints peculiar to females successfully treated. Separate office for ladies, who should call between the hours of 2 and 3 o'clock to avoid the crowd. Office hours, 10 to 3 daily; Sundays, 10 to 12 only. Consultation free.

All languages spoken and written. Write in your own language.

DR. LIEBIG'S WONDERFUL GERMAN INVIGORATOR NO. 1, the only positive cure for Spermatorrhœa, Seminal Weakness and Loss of Manhood or Impotence.

The GERMAN INVIGORATOR NO. 2 is the only known cure for Prostatorrhœa, the complications that prevent the cure of above complaints in thousands.

Price, $2 per bottle; six bottles for $10; half size, half price. To prove its wonderful power a $2 bettle will be sent free on application. Sold by all druggists.

The most powerful ELECTRIC BELTS free to patients.

Call at 21 South Main street, rooms 22 and 23, December 1st to 15th, 1888, or address

DOWNEY DEMOCRACY.

The Old Bailiwick in the Saddle and Pushing Things.

EDITORS HERALD: On last night the Democracy of Downey city opened the campaign in magnificent style. The afternoon train brought from the city of Los Angeles the principal orators of the evening, Mr. Portland C. Hunt, and Mr. Thaddeus Schofield, in company with a party of friends. At an early hour the people began to pour in from the country, and it was soon seen that the crowd would be too large for the city hall, and the meeting was held in the open air. Promptly at 8 o'clock the vast audience was called to order by the president of the "Downey Bandana Club," Mr. Sidney Grey, who introduced the first speaker, Mr. T. S. Schofield, a representative of the labor organizations of Los Angeles, who made a brief but telling speech. He dwelt principally upon the tariff question, and gave many reasons why the laboring man should vote for Tariff Reform instead of tariff robbery. Mr. Schofield's remarks were received with many rounds of applause, at the close of which the president introduced Mr. Hunt. He confined his remarks, which were about one hour in length, chiefly to tariff taxations and China immigration. He said that the Republican leaders and manipulators had entered upon an impudent and brazen campaign of willful slander and misrepresentation, and were trying to place the Democratic party before the people in a false attitude. "The despairing cry of our enemies that we are Free Traders," said the speaker, "is nothing more nor less than a Republican lie, as no Democratic document bearing the impress of authority can be produced in favor of Free Trade. Every intelligent man knows, and every candid man will admit that the Democratic party favors the collection of a sufficient revenue to defray the necessary expenses of the Government economically administered, offering incidental protection to manufacturing interests and agricultural pursuits. Upon this proposition of tariff reform the party now in power gained its great National triumph of four years ago, and the President's message and the passage of the Mills bill has proven to the people that we are redeeming our pledges, and trying to relieve them of the odious, outrageous business of overtaxation, which were fastened upon their shoulders by the Republican party in order to defray the expenses of a war that expired and passed into history nearly a quarter of a century ago. That magnificent measure of relief and redemption, known as the Mills bill, offers to give you shelter free, simply because it is against right and reason to tax sixty millions of people for the special benefit of the fortunate few engaged in the lumber syndicates. It proposes to put the very necessary article of wool on the free list, which would increase its importation into this country, giving the manufactories more raw material to work, thereby increasing the demand for labor. Since the remonetization of silver by the Democratic party in 1876 no measure has passed the American Congress more able, more elevated in statesmanship, and more humane and benevolent in its purpose to the people than the Mills bill of to-day, and its enactmenment into law would be hailed as wise legislation by the sons of toil and of moderate means, who would rather have cheaper articles of daily use and consumption, cheaper clothes, cheaper food, cheaper fuel and cheaper shelter than to have cheaper whisky and tobacco, as proposed by the Republicans in their National Convention at Chicago. And how the orators and editors of that torn and shattered old party can have the brazen impudence and glaring hypocrisy to assume, in the face of their free whisky platform, an air of superior piety and pose as a temperance party of moral ideas, is beyond all ordinary comprehension. They command more cheek, more unmitigated gall than a Mexican mule, and were they on the salesman's block, they would not bring fifteen cents, while well-bred burros would sell for a thousand dollars."

After arraigning in fearful terms the present tariff laws, and the way in which the Republican party had adjusted them, heaping heavy burdens upon the necessaries of life, and light ones upon the luxuries, the speaker then turned to the Chinese question, and discussed it with great vigor and eloquence. He said the Democratic party stood pledged irrevocally pledged against this heathen horde of pagan people, and as proof of our sincerity, we are proud to recall the President's treaty with the Chinese Empire, and the public utterances of Allen G. Thurman. In their National platform the Republican party it is true declare in very vague terms their hostility to the importation of Mongolians under contract, and yet they have allowed them to come here, and feed and fatten from the fruits of American toil for twenty-four years under their own administration. Inconsistency and hypocricy are the chief corner stones of the Republican party and it is too late for its leaders now to come before the people, and declare with their expiring groans, against that very policy which they have heretofore adopted and consistently enforced. "I for one," said the speaker, "do not believe in death-bed repentance. If anything more was needed, however, to prove the deep and lasting love the Republicans and Chinamen have for each other we have only to consider the public record of their celestial candidate for the Presidency. The career of Ben Harrison in the United States Senate reaches from 1880 to 1886 covering as it does the greater portion of the anti-Chinese legislation period, and never was his voice raised, nor his vote recorded in favor of a single measure designed to check the filthy flow of leper and opium fiends from the land of the coolies. I do not ask you Republicans to take my own words on this subject, I do ask you, however, to accept as authority the testimony of your own idolized leaders in this State, and by it we convict Benjamin Chinaman Harrison of bestowing improper affections on the Mongolian race."

Here the speaker quoted the expressions of Michael DeYoung, Creed Hammond, and other representative men of their ilk, who denounced the Republican nominee as a man who "voted against the Chinese bill, and every phrase of the Chinese treaty." That is what they thought of him before the Chicago Convention, but since then they have fallen into line from party necessity and are trying to whip the voters in after them. And with this kid-gloved, silk-stockened aristocrat, is associated Lord Morton, the London banker, the railroad magnate, whose cold and metalic heart has never known one single throb in sympathy with the sons of toil. When we turn away from these Plutocratic leaders, from a Plutocratic party to the plain, modest, unassuming, but powerful giants of Democracy, what a striking contrast is presented! The orator then briefly recounted some of the splendid achievements of the present administration, its triumphs for the people over Republican monopolies, and a Republican Senate, and concluded by telling the Democrats of Downey if they and their party friends all over the whole Nation would rally close together, and stand firm from now until the election in November, they would then achieve another national victory, equal if not superior to the one which we now enjoy, and which history has honored.

During the delivery of his address Mr. Hunt was greeted with rounds of applause and compliments, and at its close retired amid the wildest demonstrations of enthusiasm from the attentive crowd who listened to his eloquent address. Many old timers were heard to say it was the finest effort ever delivered in Downey. A large number of ladies were present, and attested their admiration, and appreciation of the young orator's remarks by presenting him with a most beautiful bouquet.

It was indeed a big night for the Democrats of Downey, and they will do their part at the polls in November.

BLANCO.

IN VAN BUREN'S TIME.

How They Lived in Washington Fifty Years Ago.

"Forty years," said John A. Gray to a Star reporter, a few days since, "makes much difference in the personnel of fashionable society at the Capital, as well as in custom. I may say," continued Mr. Gray, "that I have been connected with society for nearly half a century. I was born in 1829, and when ten years old I entered the service of the Austrian Minister, who lived in Morcoe House, on I street, between Twentieth and Twenty-first streets. That was my introduction to the society people as a house-boy. I lived with him till the fall of 1840, and had the good fortune to obtain employment at the White House. William Ingram, a colored man, was President Van Buren's private messenger, and when I left the Austrian Minister's, I went to him to ask for something to do. He at once engaged me and took me to the White House, where I was regarded as a house boy, and my principal duties were to wait on Major Abraham Van Buren, the President's son and private secretary. The President was a widower, and the Major's wife was the mistress of the mansion. The family consisted of the President, Major and Madame Van Buren, and sometimes John and Smith Van Buren, the sons, would come on from New York and make a stay of a few days or weeks.

WHITE HOUSE RECEPTIONS.

"The White House was then as it is now, the scene of receptions or levees, but probably none of them were attended by one-fourth the members that attend them now. On New Year's day the President not only received, but entertained, and after the visitors paid their respects they found their way to the dining-room, where there were refreshments, including egg-nog and apple-jack, roast pig and roast turkey, with bread and pickles. Then once a week in the winter season the President would hold a reception at night, and Madame Van Buren would hold weekly a day reception. During the season state dinners would be given once a week, the Supreme Court and Diplomatic Corps, Cabinet and other prominent officials, members of Congress and distinguished citizens in turn being the invited guests. These dinners were given in the state dining-room, and the menu included soup, fish, boiled ham and turkey, with maccaroni, bouillion of beef with tomatoes, just then coming in use, turnips, carrots and potatoes made into a sauce; saddle of venison with currant jelly, canvas-back duck, plum or cabinet pudding with cream sauce, ice cream and cake, fruits and nuts, champagne, sherry and Madeira. This dinner was served in the English style, the carving being done by the head waiters on the side tables, and the other waiters serving the table. I do not remember of cigars being passed as at present. This dinner occupied about three and one-half hours, and by 10 o'clock most of the guests had departed. Of course, the President had his party friends, but men of all parties felt at home within the walls of the White House, and around the festive board all political aspirations were forgotten.

DISTINGUISHED GUESTS.

"Among those who were frequently at the dinners and receptions were Daniel Webster, Henry Clay, John C. Calhoun, Chief Justice Taney, Major-General Wool, Dr. Lawson, Surgeon-General of the Army; Senator Benton of Missouri, Crittenden of Kentucky, Mason of Virginia, Butler of South Carolina and the Cabinet officers."

"Were the guests simple in their tastes?" asked the reporter.

"Yes, sir," answered the veteran; "but at a state dinner, or when dining out, they were apt not to show it. It was expected that each course should be discussed. Take Mr. Webster, for instance. A flitch of bacon, calves' liver and corn grits made up the best part of his breakfast. At dinner, pork and beans (a la Boston), roast turkey and cranberry jelly were his standard dishes. He was exceedingly fond of frog legs, and usually took a glass of wine and fell asleep in his chair. He entertained royally, and the dishes at his table would tempt the most capricious appetite.

PLAIN LIVERS.

"Mr. Crittenden, who lived on H street, between Ninth and Tenth streets, was a very plain liver. At breakfast his favorite dishes were ham and eggs, pork steak and hominy; and at dinner roast beef and mutton, with vegetables and smoked jowl, with sprouts or kale, was well-nigh a hobby with him. Mr. Clay boarded the most of his time, but often breakfasted Sunday mornings with Dr. Crump, of Virginia, who lived on K street, near Eighth street, and who, I believe, was a bachelor. Mr. Badger, of North Carolina, Messrs. Clay, Calhoun, Butler, Crittenden and Thomas L. Smith formed this coterie, and, after spending several hours, they would go to the house of the latter to dinner and finish out the day. Senator Benton was rather a high liver, and entertained handsomely at his residence on C street, between Third and Four-and-a-half streets. Hon. Reverdy Johnson, who lived on Capitol Hill, enjoyed high living. Canvas-back duck and Southdown mutton were favorites with him, and during his dinner he took champagne, ending with a glass of cognac. Invariably he took a short nap of not over fifteen minutes after dinner, and I believe he kept it up all his life.

"GENERAL WINFIELD SCOTT,

Who you remember," said Mr. Gray, "lived over at the Chain House (the De Demenour building, on H street, between Thirteenth and Fourteenth), and at Sixth and D streets, usually did his own marketing. Thoug ha royal entertainer, he was a plain liver. For breakfast he was fond of fried bacon, smoked roe, Potomac herring, soft-boiled eggs, corn-bread, mush and cream. For dinner roast beef, and Maryland ham, and game were his favorites. He was somewhat peculiar as to the ham, and insisted on its being cooked according to his instructions. He required the ham to be a country-cured Maryland ham; that it should be put on in cold water and simmered five hours, when a pint bottle of campagne should be emptied in the pot, and it should be boiled lightly till done. He boarded for a time at Mrs. Ulrich's (on the site of the Riggs House), and also at the National, and for some time before the war at Wormley's, and it was his desire that his dinner be set before him and the waiters then leave him alone to enjoy it. I never saw him smoke a cigar or take a glass of whisky, but he was partial to wine. Prior to the Mexican war he was quite domestic in his habits.

OF MR. VAN BUREN'S CABINET.

"Mr. Poinsett, though located in a small house, entertained handsomely. Mr. Gilpin, the Attorney-General, was very domesticated in his habits. When Mr. Van Buren left the White House I left with him. On the morning of March 4th he left, going to the residence of Mr. Gilpin at the Twin Sisters on G street. The party remained there till March 8th, and left by rail, going to Baltimore, where a stop of two days was made. The party, numbering about fifteen, were received by the Mayor of Baltimore and a committee of the Councils and escorted to Barnum's. A stop of two or three days was made in Philadelphia at Head's Mansion House, and while there the President was serenaded by Frank Johnson's colored band. The Mayor and a committee of the Councils of New York met the President and party at the ferry, and escorted them to the Carlton House, when, after a stop of two days the President and others accepted Mr. Gilpin's hospitality. He remained there till after the General Harrison mock funeral, in which Mr. Van Buren joined, and left the following day for Kinderhook, where I remained about six months and then went to see, remaining a year. After returning I was the steward of Secretary C. M. Conrad, opposite the Ebbitt, for three years, and then for Secretary Guthrie, who took Mr. Conrad's house just as it stood. Mr. Guthrie entertained lavishly, but was himself simple in his tastes. I was one year with Secretary Jake Thompson, under President Buchanan, and then superintended Jeff Davis' entertainments before the war. I also furnished Grant's first inaugural reception, for which I was given carte blanche."—[Washington Star.

He Would Wait a Little: "James," said the undertaker, "it is about time to close the shop. Have you heard of any change in the condition of Mr. Simpson since noon?" "No, sir," replied the boy, "except that they've just turned off the doctors and called a Christian scientist." "James," rejoined his employer, shaking his head gloomily, "we will keep the shop open half an hour longer."—[Chicago Tribune.

A Timely Acrostic.

CLEVELAND TO THURMAN.

Grown gray in yeoman service to the State,
Revered by good and feared by evil men,
O, noblest Roman, welcome to my side!
Vet'ran of many a hard won victory!
Each now must do his bravest in the fight:
Right points the way, and might's in arms with right.
Corrupt and greedy though the enemy be,
Legions of patriots are within our call,
Each arm uplifted for the country's weal.
Valor engraven on each heart and helm,
Each warrior waiting for the clash of steel.
Let every man then gird him for the fray,
And strike with might for honest Government.
No public office is for private gain,
Democracy must triumph once again.

THURMAN TO CLEVELAND.

At thy right hand I'm well content to be,
Lead on and conquer, man of destiny,
Leave politicians' tricks to knaves, but see
Each avenue to fraud is sealed. And why?
Not over many years have passed away,
Grover, thou knowest well, since fraud held sway.
Thou'rt loyal, brave, with all a leader's skill,
Honest as daylight, steadfast, strong of will;
Under thy lead Democracy must win,
Routing the rascals thirsting to get in.
Marshal thy forces, then, and show the way,
A nation's watched thee long from day to day,
Now waits to crown thee victor in this fray.
—[T. H. Russell in Buffalo Currier.

☞ THE ILLUSTRATED HERALD is now on hand at this office and for sale at the extremely low price of 15 cents each, or eight copies for $1. The current number has a vast amount of fresh statistical matter of great interest regarding this section. The ILLUSTRATED HERALD of 1888 is by all odds the best medium through which to make known to those at a distance all the varied attractions and industries of Los Angeles and of the semi-tropics generally. If you want to keep up the boom send a copy of this splendidly embellished publication to your friends in the East.

HAVE YOU A COLD IN THE HEAD which does not get better? Have you an excessive secretion of mucus matter in the nasal passages? Are you troubled by hawking, spitting, weak and inflamed eyes, frequent soreness of the throat, ringing or roaring in the ears, more or less impairment of the hearing, loss of smell, memory impaired, dullness or dizziness of the head, dryness or heat of the nose? Have you lost all sense of smell? your breath foul? If so, you have the Catarrh. Some have all these symptoms, others only a part.

California Cat-R-Cure

Restores the sense of taste and smell, removes bad taste and unpleasant breath, resulting from catarrh. Easy and pleasant to use. Follow directions and a cure is warranted by all druggists.

RECOMMENDED.

CAPTAIN CHARLES L. DIMON, of New York City, formerly special agent of the Phœnix and Home Insurance Company at San Francisco, Cal., says: "I had been troubled with Chronic Catarrh for twenty years. A friend in Woodland, Cal., recommended your California CAT-R-CURE. I procured a jar, having but little faith in its curative properties; but I must say, after using three jars, I am cured of that disgusting disease. Inclosed find $5, for which send me California CAT-R-CURE for some friends, who are sufferers.

THE ILLUSTRATED HERALD is now on hand at this office and for sale at the extremely low price of 15 cents each, or eight copies for $1. The current number has a vast amount of fresh statistical matter of great interest regarding this section. The ILLUSTRATED HERALD of 1888 is by all odds the best medium through which to make known to those at a distance all the varied attractions and industries of Los Angeles and of the semi-tropics generally. If you want to keep up the boom send a copy of this splendidly embellished publication to your friends in the East.

IN THE SUPERIOR COURT

Of the County of Los Angeles, State of California, Department No. ——

James Pedgrift, John Grant, James Smith, plaintiffs, vs. Pierre Encope, Calmet Francois, Defendants.—Action brought in the Superior Court of the County of Los Angeles, State of California, and the complaint filed in the office of the Clerk of said county. Bower & Heathman, plaintiffs attorneys.

The people of the State of California send greeting to Pierre Encope and Calmet Francois, defendants.

You are hereby required to appear in an action brought against you by the above-named plaintiffs in the Superior Court of the said County of Los Angeles, State of California, and to answer to the complaint filed therein, within ten days (exclusive of the day of service) after the service on you of this summons—if served within this county or, if served elsewhere, within thirty days, or judgment by default will be taken against you, according to the prayer of said complaint.

The said action is brought to quiet title to a certain piece and parcel of land situated in the city and county of Los Angeles, State of California, and particularly described as follows: Commencing at corner of willow fence being Southwest corner of the land of E. N. Fletcher, and running thence along the North line of the Philbin Tract N 63 degrees 25 minutes W 2.05 chains; thence N 10 degrees 50 minutes E 2.36 chains; thence N 58 degrees 25 minutes W 1.15 chains; thence N 29¾ degrees E 4.56 chains; thence S 58 degrees 15 minutes E 7.11 chains to the willow fence of E. N. Fletcher; thence along said willow fence S 31 degrees 10 minutes W 6.33 chains to the place of beginning, containing 4.2861 acres of land, being the identical parcel of land described in a deed dated Sept. 2, 1857, from Pierre Ferran to Pierre Lasabal, recorded in Book 3, page 758, of Deeds of Los Angeles County Records, wherein said parcel of land is described as being 160 varas in length and 80 varas in width, and as then adjoining the land of Julian Rendon, Luis Valenzuela, Teodocio Sais and Pedro Dominguez, as will more fully appear by reference to the complaint filed herein.

And you are hereby notified that if you fail to appear and answer the said complaint as above required, the said plaintiffs will apply to the Court for the relief prayed for in the said complaint.

Given under my hand and the Seal of the Superior Court of the said County of Los Angeles, State of California, this 10th day of March, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and eighty-eight.

[SEAL.] C. H. DUNSMOOR, Clerk.

MEDICAL.

CONSUMPTION

And all the various diseases of the Head, Throat and Chest,

Together with the

EYE, EAR AND HEART,

Also all Chronic Diseases and Diseases incident to Females, successfully treated by

M. Hilton Williams,

M. D., M. C. P. S. O.,

And associated with him his brother,

J. A. WILLIAMS, M. D.,

Late of Grand Rapids, Michigan, the noted Specialist in all forms of Female Complaints, also, diseases of young men and old men, and who has made a specialty in these diseases for the past thirteen years.

HOLLENBECK BLOCK,

Cor. Second and Spring Sts., Los Angeles, Cal.

All diseases of the respiratory organs treated by the most improved Medical Inhalations, combined with proper constitutional remedies, for the liver stomach, blood, etc. We are also now using the Compound Oxygen treatment which has such a world-wide reputation in lung and nervous affections.

Probably no system of practice ever adopted has been so universally successful as that introduced by Dr. Williams for the cure of Catarrh, Throat Diseases, Bronchitis, Asthma and Consumption.

Over 80,000 cases treated during the past twenty-one years.

CATARRH.

The term Catarrh is applied to a peculiar disorder of the nostrils and adjacent parts, which prevails to an alarming extent, and is productive of very serious consequences.

The most prominent and characteristic feature is a morbid discharge from the head, varying in its nature at different times. In some there is an almost constant flow of clear, acrid fluid, but oftener an offensive, purulent, or muco-purulent, greenish-yellow matter is secreted, which accumulates in the nostrils or drops into the throat, necessitating its frequent removal by blowing the nose or expectoration, and often by both processes. Sometimes patients feel as though their whole head was in a state of rottenness, so great is the amount of matter discharged and so fetid is its odor. The patient is greatly annoyed by the constant dropping into the throat of the morbid matter from the head, and as a recumbent position naturally favors the flow downward, his rest is frequently disturbed from this cause. Many sufferers are obliged to lie with the head very much elevated in order to sleep with some degree of comfort.

In others, a tough, viscid and offensive phlegm collects behind and above the soft palate, in the passage between the throat and head, adhering to the parts with gluish tenacity. Its lodgement embarrasses respiration and creates a sensation of irritation and uneasiness in the affected locality, which gives rise to a constant and almost irresistible desire to relieve the discomfort by drawing the mucus into the throat, so as to eject it by the mouth. This practice, popularly known as "hawking," is characteristic of catarrh, and proves as embarrassing to the one affected as it is disagreeable to those around him.

Again, the offensive matter hardens and deposits itself on the membrane in the shape of dry, hard concretions, which are discharged by way of the nostrils or throat in lumps or fragments of a deep green tint. In some cases these incustrations accumulate to such an extent as to form a regular plug in the nose, which obstructs breathing and produces serious discomfort. So firmly do these incrustations adhere to the point of attachment that their removal usually requires the most violent efforts; not unfrequently they have to be torn from the membrane. Occasionally a solid cast of notable size is expelled, on which there are generally traces of blood, but in some cases the cast presents a tubular appearance, being of exact shape of the nasal cavity. This condition is indicative of ulceration, which, in time may destroy the bony structure of the nose and produce a subsequent flattening of that organ.

Cases are occasionally met with in which a thick, viscid, slimy secretion coats the membrane of the nasal cavities, and then putrifies, giving rise to a stench which is really overpowering and sufficiently fetid to poison the atmosphere of a whole room; and there are others in which all the secretions of the membrane are suspended, causing an unpleasant feeling of dryness, heat and feverishness in the head and nose—a condition popularly known as "Dry Catarrh."

The disease speedily extends to the air cavities of the bones of the forehead and face, giving rise to a distressing sensation of heavy weight or compression over the forehead, especially in the region above and between the eyes, and to a feeling of fullness, heat, irritation, soreness, or pain in the nostrils near the root of the nose, as well as in the upper part of the throat, above and behind the soft palate.

Sometimes there is pain obstinately fixed in some particular part, as in the temple, on the top of the head, at the back of the neck, or behind the orbits, and occasionally pain manifests itself in the face of so severe a character that it is frequently mistaken for neuralgia.

The breath is always tainted, and at times assumes an exceedingly fetid and sickening odor. In some cases it becomes so revoltingly offensive as to render the sufferer an object of disgust to himself as well as to others.

The nasal membrane is thickened and congested, causing the nose to be stopped up, sometimes on one side, sometimes on the other, and often on both, giving rise to a disagreeable, stuffy sensation in the head, and occasioning violent and prolonged paroxysms of sneezing.

The voice is weak, indistinct and husky, or of a nasal character, displaying a sort of sniffing quality. Oftentimes there is a continuous hoarseness and discordance. There is also a sense of irritation in the throat, and frequent attempts to clear the parts of phlegm, producing the sound "nem," more or less forcibly. In some cases patients complain of an uncomfortable feeling of fullness, or a choky sensation in the throat, and in others of a distressing and almost constant dryness for the temporary relief of which they have to swallow frequently. Others, again, speak of a constant bad or nauseous taste in the mouth or throat.

The stomach generally suffers more or less, and becomes weak and irritable, the appetite is capricious, and nearly always bad in the morning. The patient is languid, unable to perform mental or physical labor with the usual facility, is nervous, depressed in spirits, at times fearful, timid, agitated and inclined to drowsiness and sleep, the memory weakened and permanent impairment seriously threatened.

The mucuous membrane soon becomes morbidly sensitive to unfavorable influences, and in spite of the utmost care becomes affected from the slightest causes, so that a breath of wind upon the linings of the nose or throat, becomes productive of a cold, and gives rise to serious disturbances of the respiratory organs. Thus the patient is subject to frequent and repeated colds, each attack aggravating the disease by giving it a new impulse, and involving a larger extent of surface than its predecessor. In this manner the difficulty spreads from organ to organ, invading the throat, larnyx, trachea and bronchial tubes, until, encroaching further and further, it reaches the finer ramifications of the bronchi, when but a slight impulse is required to send it to the lungs. Catarrh may, and often does, affect other organs in the body, especially those containing a mucous membrane, such as the stomach, bowels, kidneys, etc.

By the employment of proper inhalations and Compound Oxygen treatment in the form of medicated vapor (not steam or spray) we are able to produce immediate and direct action upon the diseased surface in the larnyx and the nasal passages, for air will find its way into the remotest and intricate cavities, where it is utterly impossible to make fluid applications. By these means every case can be cured.

Persons desiring treatment by this system of practice can use the remedies at home as well as at our office, and which will cause no inconvenience or hindrance from business whatever.

I have seen so many of these cases cured that I do not consider any case hopeless, unless both lungs are seriously involved. Even then the inhalations aid us in dissolving the mucus and in contracting and healing the cavities, which nothing can do with the same success.

The very best reference from those already cured.

CONSULTATION FREE.

Those who desire to consult with me in regard to their cases had better call at the office for consultation and examination, but if impossible to do so, can write for a copy of my Medical Treatise, containing a list of questions. Address

NEWS NOTES.

There are now 504 members of the Seventh Infantry regiment.

The 10th Precinct causus will meet tomorrow night at the Sixth street car stables.

A list of the precincts, together with their boundaries, will be published tomorrow morning.

The Board of Public Works will meet at 8:30 o'clock this morning and the City Council will meet at 10 o'clock.

Prof. G. W. James will deliver his lecture on "James Bunyan," at the Main Street M. E. Church, next Thursday evening.

The new directories of the city are expected to arrive this week. The book will contain about twice as many pages as last year.

The workmen on the new City Hall have got it so far along that some idea can now be obtained as to its appearance when finished.

The Stephen M. White Club will meet to-night at No. 17 North Main street. All members should be on hand. Good speakers will address the meeting.

A large part of the horses which took part in the races last week were shipped away yesterday. Most of them have gone north to take part in the races there.

The friends of Mr. Dennis Hennessy have nearly shaken his hand off. His arm is as big as a barrel. Cause—he is the happy father of a great big bouncing boy.

The cable road is progressing favorably on Fort street. One line of track has been finished as far as First street and two lines from Seventh to Fourth streets.

The Cleveland and Thurman Club will meet this evening at No. 17 North Main street. All members are requested to be present as important business is to be transacted.

There is some talk of putting down a gas well in the vicinity of the western portion of the city. There are several locations there where natural gas comes to the surface through fissures.

It is said that it will be necessary to offer at least $15,000 in stakes if it is expected to obtain the winter races from New Orleans. Sporting men think that this amount should be raised by interested parties.

The Cleveland and Thurman club of San Fernando, with commendable enterprise, rent two columns of the Sun published in their community, into which they pack a lot of good Democratic doctrine.

Quite an amusing fight took place in the water at Santa Monica yesterday. One bather struck another in the face with a bunch of sea weed and a free fight in deep water ensued. The combatants were separated before any great damage was done.

David Carr, a local pugulist, has challenged George H. Bush to a six-round sparring match for gate receipts, under the Marquis of Queensbury's rules, to take place either at the Olympic hall or Agricultural park; but it is stipulated that Bush's realy shall be returned at an early date.

At a stockholders' meeting of the Cora Belle Mining Company held on Saturday evening the following officers were chosen for one year: President, Eugene Riggin; Secretary, C. S. McDuffee; Treasurer, First National Bank; Directors, Eugene Riggin, D. C. Humphrey, E. A. McDuffee, Wm. R. Lucas, C. S. McDuffee.

To the Public.

The Bituminous Lime Rock Paving and Improvement Company take this opportunity of informing the citizens and property owners of this city that the pavement laid on Main street between First and Third streets is not Bituminous Lime Rock, but is an artificial mixture and not laid by the company. We make this announcement for the purpose of disabusing the minds of those who entertain the belief that this pavement was laid by this company and are disposed to criticise our material as being soft and not suitable for the streets of this city. The only Bituminous Lime Rock Pavement here was laid by this company, and extends on Main street from south line of Third to Ninth street, and on Spring street from Temple to Ninth streets. Bituminous Lime Rock does not become soft and mushy under the heat of the sun, but always remains firm and elastic. We have already laid on the streets of this city about five hundred thousand square feet of this pavement to which we take pleasure in inviting inspection. Very Respectfully yours,

BITUMINOUS LIME ROCK PAVING AND IMPROVEMENT CO.

The Fidelity Mutual Life Association

OF PHILADELPHIA, PA.,

Organized in 78 as a purely Mutual Natural Rate Company.

It has $20,000,000 insurance in force; issues a liberal incontestable policy; its assets are five times its liabilities, and its rates are level and about 40 per cent. below the old legal reserve rates.

The system of the Fidelity affords both superior security and a great saving to the insured.
